A Parents'-Eye View Of Col. John Glenn

This is the second of three articles on astronaut John Glenn by his college friend, Al Simpson. Both "double dated" during their college days at Muskingum College, both married their college-days girl friends and all four have retained their long - ago close friendship. Simpson is en route to Cape Canaveral, Fla., to cover Glenn's orbital flight for Brush-Moore Newspapers.

NEW CONCORD, Ohio — When the parents of a typical all-American - type boy rear him from the day of his birth, through the toddler stage, into the stripling years, through the tempestuous teens, into adulthood and then, suddenly, see his star flash across the firmament of fame—like a space capsule, for instance — what do they think?

How do they feel about it?

How does it affect their lives?

I asked Mr. and Mrs. John H. Glenn Sr. about this.

JOHN'S FATHER says he and his wife can't quite believe it yet — that their son is the recipient of so much fame and that he will be in the history books.

But the elder Glenn does contend that "after John made the cross-country flight, I just felt from then on that he was going to go places."

Lt. Col. Glenn set a jet speed record of 3 hours, 23 minutes from coast to coast in 1957 as a Marine Corps pilot.

His father had thought young John would go into the plumbing business with him but World War II changed that.

And even before that the Civilian Pilot Training program ground school instructor at Muskingum College told the senior Glenn he felt he shouldn't discourage young John from flying because "in 20 years aviation will be one of the world's leading industries."

THE GLENNS replied in the affirmative when asked if their son was keenly disappointed at not being selected as the first American in space.

He definitely had the ambition to be the first man in space, they said, but now he seems very pleased to be the first American in orbit.

Oxygen System Delays Flight

Glenn's Earth Orbit Bid Probably To Be Saturday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —United States' plans to send astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., three times around the earth were postponed a second time today, probably until next Saturday.

Reliable sources reported additional days were needed to completely check out faulty oxygen system in the environmental control system. This system, which feeds oxygen to the astronaut's pressurized space suit, developed problems during a checkout early today.

The discovery of the trouble prompted officials to call an immediate 24-hour delay of the shot, pushing it off from Wednesday until Thursday. Later, the sources reported, it was decided to make a complete check to insure all is right for Glenn's safety.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has not announced a definite date for the firing, and therefore declined comment on the report.

The trouble developed in a hard-to-get-at spot in the capsule and the entire control panel had to be removed so technicians could correct it.

This is the fourth postponement of the launching. It originally was set for Dec. 20 when officials felt there was a chance to achieve manned orbit flight in 1961. When this was deemed impossible, the shot was put off until Jan. 16.

Problems with the Atlas booster resulted in another week delay, and minor capsule difficulty pushed the launching back still another day.

News of the postponement came as astronaut Glenn, like a superbly conditioned boxer closing out his training camp, began final preparations for the flight.

He was scheduled to make one more simulated orbit flight in a groundbased capsule and then go into a tapering off period. The final preflight days mostly will be taken up with medical checks, a final briefing, running on the beach to stay in shape and, inexorably, waiting.

In the past three weeks, he has flown 60 theoretical flights, rehearsing every possibility that could be rehearsed, and in the process has landed in the Atlantic, Indian and Pacific Oceans. (hypothetically, that is.)

How does he feel?

"He feels pretty confident, calm and collected," reported Dr. Robert Voas, psychologist and one of the astronaut's training officers. 'I'm sure there has been some increase in tension—you can't approach a great adventure like this without some of that. But he feels well prepared. He wants to get going.

"He continues to be fascinated by what he will see over the earth. He looks forward to this not only as a great adventure but a great voyage of discovery and he doesn't want to miss a thing

Tax Slash, Works Fund

Anti-Slump Measures Requested By Kennedy

Republicans Are Cool To Twin Plans

President Also Bids To Negotiate Tariff Slash With Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy reported today the nation met its recovery aims in 1961, is making "another giant stride" toward full employment this year, and can attain a "staggering" $600-billion worth of production in 1963.

The time to erect a defense-in-depth against future recessions is this prospering moment, Kennedy told Congress in his economic report. It was the third and last of the major White House messages to the new session.

The anti-slump weapons needed, he said, are his twin plans—sourly greeted by most Republican Congress members—for standby presidential powers to cut taxes temporarily and unleash federal money for quick-acting public works.

Kennedy urged Congress to let him trigger up to $2 billion of lending, spending and matching funds into the works plan when joblessness reaches danger points which he defined.

He also spelled out for the first time how much tax-cutting leeway he wants—enough, he said, to throw $5 billion of new buying power into a faltering economy in six months, or, if extended with Congress' assent, $10 billion in a year.

The cuts he proposed would be up to 5 percentage points in each income tax rate bracket. That would mean a one-fourth tax reduction for the lowest taxpayer group, but considerably less, in proportion, for the higher-income families.

Further, Kennedy said, this Congress should:

Empower him to "negotiate a reduction in the tariff of the European Common Market" with a gradual lowering of U.S. duties.

Lengthen jobless benefits permanently and enroll three million new workers under unemployment insurance.

Enact promptly the pending 8 per cent investment credit for industry.

He also called for repeal of the Silver Purchase Act, aid to education at all levels, health care for the aged under Social Security,

Plea By Boyd Sets Stage In Murder Trial

Denial's Mandatory In 1st Degree Case Under Ohio's Law

William P. Boyd Jr. of East Liverpool entered an innocent plea to a charge of murdering his estranged wife when arraigned this morning before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard in Lisbon.

Three other defendants also entered not guilty pleas, including one pleading insanity. Two pleaded guilty and asked immediate sentencing and three more sought probation after pleading guilty.

The 22-year-old Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. resident was charged with first degree murder after allegedly confessing the slaying of his 18-year-old wife, Nancy Lee, whose body was found in a field along Beaver Creek Nov. 15 — 10 days after she had vanished.

State law prohibits a guilty plea in a first degree murder indictment. The arraignment today sets the stage for his hearing on a murder charge during this term of court.

Russell H. Miner of Salem entered an innocent plea to a second degree manslaughter charge as the result of a traffic death Nov. 5 on Route 14 near Columbiana.

Richard Masterson, 21, of Columbiana R. D. 2 pleaded not guilty to charges of carrying a concealed weapon and burglary of Smith's Feed Mill near the junction of Routes 7 and 30 Dec. 26.

Ronald Hellman, 19, of Youngstown was ordered to Lima State Hospital for 30-day observation after pleading not guilty by reason of insanity to stabbing his former girl friend, Frances Grif-

Four Houses Buried

Snowslide Kills Six In Colorado

TWIN LAKES, Colo. (AP) — A giant mass of snow slid down Colorado's highest mountain Sunday, sweeping over four houses, and snuffing out at least six lives.

Officials estimated more than 200,000 tons of snow plunged down the southern slope of 14,341-foot Mount Elbert in a 3½-mile run. It engulfed the western end of Twin Lakes, a central Rocky Mountain village 140 miles southwest of Denver. The avalanche was more than 300 yards wide and 15 feet deep.

One family was wiped out. G. L. Shelton, 50; his wife Marie, 40; their son Steve, 14, and daughters Linda, 9, and Vickie, 8, all perished.

Two persons were rescued from the buried wreckage of their home. William Adamich, 35, and his wife Barbara, 30, were hospitalized in Leadville with frostbite and possible internal injuries. Their son Billy, 8, was found dead. Another son, Michael, 10, was missing.

The other two houses were vacant.

About 600 persons worked more than six hours in the frigid mountain air probing the wreckage.

A neighbor, Nels Lindstone, 66, said that when he awoke at 8 a.m. he looked out of a window and saw only snow and wreckage where the houses had stood.

Lindstone said he tried to telephone the sheriff in Leadville, but telephone lines were down. He hailed a passing motorist to notify authorities.

Lindstone said he and a neighbor walked through the snow-covered wreckage until they heard faint cries for help. They started digging.

It was antoher two and one half hours before the two survivors were found. Mrs. Adamich was pinned beneath heavy timbers across her legs and abdomen. Her husband was about 75 feet away.

The avalanche followed a three-day storm that dumped 30 inches of snow.

Car Rammed On W. 8th St.; Pair Injured

Market's Operator, Wife Hurt In 2-Way West End Mishap

A former city councilman and his wife were injured Sunday afternoon at 2:40 when their halted auto was hit from the rear by a skidding car at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts., police reported.

They are Harry Wilson, 64, of 709 Bradshaw Ave., operator of a market near his home, and his wife, Clara, 59.

Wilson was admitted to City Hospital for X-ray of the spine. His condition today is "fair." His wife was released after X-rays.

Also injured was Pauline Meigh, 53, of 213 E. 4th St., identified by the hospital as a passenger in the Wilson's car. She said her head hit the dash and she complained of pain in the face and head, the hospital said. She was released after treatment.

The Wilson's car, halted for a traffic light at the intersection, was hit by a 1957 model sports car driven by Albert R. Winters, 31, of 138½ W. 4th St., police said.

Winters was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Wilson's car was halted for the traffic light on W. 8th at Lisbon St., police said. Winters told police he was driving west on W. 8th about 35 miles an hour and as he approached the intersection he applied the brakes to halt for the signal. But his car skidded and hit Wilson's, he said.

There was damage to the entire

Falls 70 Feet To Creek

East End Boy, 14, Saved After Tumble Over Cliff

A 14-year old East End youth who fell down a 70-foot cliff onto an icy creekbed Sunday afternoon near Chester and who had to be carried by rescuers down a frozen waterfall is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

Robert Cregar, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Cregar, 1600 Holliday St., suffered fractures of both wrists and cuts of the eye and lip in the plunge into the creek bed a half mile east of the T. K. Roofing Co. in Chester yesterday about 2 p. m.

A seventh grade pupil at East Junior High School, Robert had gone to Chester earlier yesterday afternoon to visit a former East End playmate, Jimmy Williams, son of Mrs. Anthony LaScola, 964 Phoenix Ave.

The two had taken a walk to the wooded area east of the city when the Cregar boy fell over the edge of the cliff — a drop so far the Williams boy could not see him, but heard his body hit the ground below.

The Chester boy ran to the roofing company and told workers there what had happened.

Frank Ward of Adolphus St., an employe, called for an ambulance, and he, along with James Frye of Salineville and Walter Anderson of Chester R. D. 1, started out to aid the injured boy. Jesse Gill of Pan Ave. stayed behind to direct the ambulance crew.

Alvin (Pete) Arner of the Arner Chester Chapel and Wayne Berry of 5th St., an assistant, arrived with the ambulance, and drove near the site then began making their way, along with Gill, with the stretcher up the ice-clogged creekbed.

Ward, Frye and Anderson had brought the injured youth down about halfway to the abmulance, but were halted momentarily by a 15-foot drop in the level of the floor of the creek — a frozen, sloping angular waterfall.

The three men made a chain out of their belts, and Ward, with the boy rested on his chest, slid down the icy surface to the waiting ambulance workers and the stretcher.

The youth then was carried to the ambulance and taken to the hospital.

Board To Air Wage Puzzle Of Teachers

An attempt to provide payroll funds for the Franklin School at Summitville — where teachers failed to get their pay last week from the former Franklin Local account — will be made at a special meeting of the Southern Local School District Board of Education tonight.

The board will meet at 7:30 at Salineville High School to consider establishing funds for the personnel at the school at Summitville, which has five teachers, including John Gruszecki, principal.

The teachers received their checks last week, but when some of them cashed them, they were subsequently informed the payroll account was overdrawn. The rest of the teachers did not get their checks cashed. The problem also was aired by the County Board of Education Saturday night.

Southern Local officials pointed out today they have not yet received any of the minute books, records, account books or other files of the former board of education of the former Franklin Local district.

Family Flees East End Fire

Smoke Rouses Man On Mulberry St.

An East End family fled their home early this morning after the father smelled smoke, firemen reported.

James Shields smelled smoke in the home at 513 Mulberry St., aroused his sleeping family and summoned firemen at 2:49 a. m.

Firemen said the blaze of undetermined origin was confined to a utility room, but reported extensive smoke damage to the entire home.

The department was called to the home of Donald Milbauer, 915 May St., at 1:40 p. m. Sunday when grease on the stove overheated.

The family attempted to throw a rug on the fire, but it also ignited, firemen said. They used an extinguisher to quell the fire.

The blaze caused smoke damage to the kitchen ceiling, firemen said.

Firemen were called to 5th and Market Sts. at 8:28 p. m. Saturday when a 1954 sedan driven by Ida Morris caught fire. The blaze caused extensive damage to the motor, wiring and battery, firemen said, but the cause was not listed. There was no air cleaner on the engine, they said.

Lightning Hits Plane Carrying Bob Hope

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A crowded twin-engine airliner, carrying comedian Bob Hope, actress Jane Wyman and several dozen others, was struck by lightning Sunday over Northern California, Hope said today.

The lighting bolt evidently disabled some of the craft's instruments, Hope said, and the pilot turned around and landed at San Francisco instead of continuing to Los Angeles.

House Action Set On Postal Rate Hike Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major action is scheduled this week on the floor and in committees of both the Senate and the House.

A postal rate bill comes before the House Tuesday with a final vote likely Wednesday. It would add a penny to the cost of mailing a letter.

The postal rate increase measure technically has been on the House docket since last summer. It would add about $550 million to postal revenues. An administration-backed amendment likely to be approved would raise the extra income to $621 million.

Most of the extra revenue would come from a one-cent hike in first class and air mail rates, with lesser amounts from higher rates for second and third class—newspapers, magazines and bulk mail.

The House Ways and Means Committee has started the final round of work on the President's bill to tighten up some taxes and to give business a billion-dollar incentive to modernize. The measure is expected to be ready for a House vote next month.

70 Algerian Raiders Invade French Camp

ALGIERS (AP)— Striking boldly at dawn, uniformed armed raiders of the underground Secret Army fighting Algerian independence invaded a French military camp Sunday and escaped with weapons and equipment.

A government communique said about 70 raiders wearing French army uniforms were aided by a sentry and an officer inside the camp at Sidi Chami, near Oran, in western Algeria.

There was no report whether the guards put up a fight.

Paris Blast Kills 1

PARIS (AP) — A heavy explosion jolted the French Foreign Ministry today, killing one person and wounding several. Hundreds of windows were shattered and a section of wall torn out.

Professor Will Seek Congressman's Post

John J. Carrigg, professor of history and chairman of the History Department at the College of Steubenville, announced today he will seek the Republican nomination for 18th District congressman in the May 8 primaries.

Carrigg is serving his second term as a member of Steubenville City Council. Born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1921, he served three years in the Army in World War II. He holds degrees from Georgetwon University at Washington.

Carrigg joined the Steubenville faculty in 1948. He is married to the former Mary Park of Sandusky. They have nine children.

Oxygen System Delays Flight

Glenn's Earth Orbit Bid Probably To Be Saturday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —United States' plans to send astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., three times around the earth were postponed a second time today, probably until next Saturday.

Reliable sources reported additional days were needed to completely check out faulty oxygen system in the environmental control system. This system, which feeds oxygen to the astronaut's pressurized space suit, developed problems during a checkout early today.

Lindstone said he tried to telephone the sheriff in Leadville, but telephone lines were down. He hailed a passing motorist to notify authorities.

Lindstone said he and a neighbor walked through the snow-covered wreckage until they heard faint cries for help. They started digging.

It was antoher two and one half hours before the two survivors were found. Mrs. Adamich was pinned beneath heavy timbers across her legs and abdomen. Her husband was about 75 feet away.

The avalanche followed a three-day storm that dumped 30 inches of snow.

House Action Set On Postal Rate Hike Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major action is scheduled this week on the floor and in committees of both the Senate and the House.

A postal rate bill comes before the House Tuesday with a final vote likely Wednesday. It would add a penny to the cost of mailing a letter.

The postal rate increase measure technically has been on the House docket since last summer. It would add about $550 million to postal revenues. An administration-backed amendment likely to be approved would raise the extra income to $621 million.

Most of the extra revenue would come from a one-cent hike in first class and air mail rates, with lesser amounts from higher rates for second and third class—newspapers, magazines and bulk mail.

The House Ways and Means Committee has started the final round of work on the President's bill to tighten up some taxes and to give business a billion-dollar incentive to modernize. The measure is expected to be ready for a House vote next month.

70 Algerian Raiders Invade French Camp

ALGIERS (AP)— Striking boldly at dawn, uniformed armed raiders of the underground Secret Army fighting Algerian independence invaded a French military camp Sunday and escaped with weapons and equipment.

A government communique said about 70 raiders wearing French army uniforms were aided by a sentry and an officer inside the camp at Sidi Chami, near Oran, in western Algeria.

There was no report whether the guards put up a fight.

Paris Blast Kills 1

PARIS (AP) — A heavy explosion jolted the French Foreign Ministry today, killing one person and wounding several. Hundreds of windows were shattered and a section of wall torn out.

Car Rammed On W. 8th St.; Pair Injured

A former city councilman and his wife were injured Sunday afternoon at 2:40 when their halted auto was hit from the rear by a skidding car at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts., police reported.

They are Harry Wilson, 64, of 709 Bradshaw Ave., operator of a market near his home, and his wife, Clara, 59.

Wilson was admitted to City Hospital for X-ray of the spine. His condition today is "fair." His wife was released after X-rays.

Also injured was Pauline Meigh, 53, of 213 E. 4th St., identified by the hospital as a passenger in the Wilson's car. She said her head hit the dash and she complained of pain in the face and head, the hospital said. She was released after treatment.

The Wilson's car, halted for a traffic light at the intersection, was hit by a 1957 model sports car driven by Albert R. Winters, 31, of 138½ W. 4th St., police said.

Winters was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Wilson's car was halted for the traffic light on W. 8th at Lisbon St., police said. Winters told police he was driving west on W. 8th about 35 miles an hour and as he approached the intersection he applied the brakes to halt for the signal. But his car skidded and hit Wilson's, he said.

There was damage to the entire

Deaths and Funerals

Death Claims L. H. Hoskins

Louis H. Hoskins, 56, of Chester R. D. 1, a retired steelworker, died Sunday at 3 a. m. at his home following a long illness.

He was born in Daviess County (Ky.) June 19, 1905, son of the late Perry L. Hoskins and Marie Jane Faulkerson Hoskins. He worked at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., retiring in 1958 because of his health. He served in the armed forces from 1923-25. He was a member of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Chester and its Catholic Men's Club and Steelworkers Union 1212.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Hazel R. Bailey Hoskins, at home; a son, Louis H. Hoskins Jr., in the Air Force; four daughters, Mrs. Florence Bentley of Salineville, Mrs. Anna Robinson of San Francisco, Mrs. Delores Conkle of Georgetown, and Mrs. Eleanor Salter of Wellsville; a brother, William Herman Hoskins of Sebring and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Cheshire of Evansville, Ohio, and Mrs. Paul Highfield of Salem.

Services will be held Wednesday at 9 a. m. at the Sacred Heart church. Burial will be at Mill Creek Cemetery, near Hookstown.

Friends may call at the Arner Chapel in Chester tonight and Tuesday. The Rosary will be recited Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Members of the Catholic Men's Club will meet Tuesday at 7:30 to hold a brief service.

Ex-Wellsville Man Crushed Under Auto

A former Wellsville man was injured fatally Sunday at his home in Tampa, Fla., when apparently crushed by a car on which he was working as it slipped off a jack.

The victim was Earl D. (Hoop) Jarvis, 54, who had been in the contracting business in Tampa.

He was born in Wellsville and attended schools there. Before moving to Florida, he was employed at the Treadwell Construction Co.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. C. E. Jarvis, of Lakeland, Fla., two sisters, Mrs. Edna Wadsworth Jr. of Haines City, Fla., and Mrs. Ila Anderson of Minneapolis, and a brother, Paul H. Jarvis, of East Liverpool.

Services will be held Wednesday at the Curry Funeral Home in Tampa. Burial will be in Haines City, Fla.

Atty. Gen. Kennedy Weighs Soviet Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy is weighing a Soviet invitation to visit Moscow, administration sources report.

If President Kennedy's brother accepts, he would stop off in the Soviet capital during a world trip that starts next month.

The attorney general is reported to have discussed the invitation with both the President and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Officials have declined to say what form the invitation took or when or how it was offered.

The state of New Mexico is the only one in the United States where both English and Spanish are accepted official languages.

Deaths and Funerals

Death Claims L. H. Hoskins

Louis H. Hoskins, 56, of Chester R. D. 1, a retired steelworker, died Sunday at 3 a. m. at his home following a long illness.

He was born in Daviess County (Ky.) June 19, 1905, son of the late Perry L. Hoskins and Marie Jane Faulkerson Hoskins. He worked at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., retiring in 1958 because of his health. He served in the armed forces from 1923-25. He was a member of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Chester and its Catholic Men's Club and Steelworkers Union 1212.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Hazel R. Bailey Hoskins, at home; a son, Louis H. Hoskins Jr., in the Air Force; four daughters, Mrs. Florence Bentley of Salineville, Mrs. Anna Robinson of San Francisco, Mrs. Delores Conkle of Georgetown, and Mrs. Eleanor Salter of Wellsville; a brother, William Herman Hoskins of Sebring and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Cheshire of Evansville, Ohio, and Mrs. Paul Highfield of Salem.

Services will be held Wednesday at 9 a. m. at the Sacred Heart church. Burial will be at Mill Creek Cemetery, near Hookstown.

Friends may call at the Arner Chapel in Chester tonight and Tuesday. The Rosary will be recited Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Members of the Catholic Men's Club will meet Tuesday at 7:30 to hold a brief service.

Ex-Wellsville Man Crushed Under Auto

A former Wellsville man was injured fatally Sunday at his home in Tampa, Fla., when apparently crushed by a car on which he was working as it slipped off a jack.

The victim was Earl D. (Hoop) Jarvis, 54, who had been in the contracting business in Tampa.

He was born in Wellsville and attended schools there. Before moving to Florida, he was employed at the Treadwell Construction Co.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. C. E. Jarvis, of Lakeland, Fla., two sisters, Mrs. Edna Wadsworth Jr. of Haines City, Fla., and Mrs. Ila Anderson of Minneapolis, and a brother, Paul H. Jarvis, of East Liverpool.

Services will be held Wednesday at the Curry Funeral Home in Tampa. Burial will be in Haines City, Fla.

Atty. Gen. Kennedy Weighs Soviet Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy is weighing a Soviet invitation to visit Moscow, administration sources report.

If President Kennedy's brother accepts, he would stop off in the Soviet capital during a world trip that starts next month.

The attorney general is reported to have discussed the invitation with both the President and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Officials have declined to say what form the invitation took or when or how it was offered.

The state of New Mexico is the only one in the United States where both English and Spanish are accepted official languages.

Pray For Speedy Success

It is being pointed out that American railroads now are in their second round of mergers. The first round, little lines that had been built on financial speculation, were put together in service combinations. This round, the service combinations that emerged from the first round are putting together their resources for financial security.

The public is more than an interested spectator.

It is more than a stockholder.

It is a partner in railroad deficits. It must pray for the speedy success of every merger that promises to get rid of red ink in favor of black ink.

The public is a partner not only in railroad deficits but in all the potential transportation deficits that are plaguing operating companies.

AIRLINE MERGERS and truckline mergers are in the works and in the offing. While railroad troubles are related to declining use of rail facilities, parts of the transportation industry with increasing use are in financial trouble, too.

Their costs of operation keep going up faster than their ability to earn money. They are caught in a squeez between ever-mounting labor rates and ever-growing costs of material.

Railroads estimate that federal, state and local governments have spent $162 billion since 1955 on highways, waterways, airways, airports and related facilities used by competing commercial carriers and on airline subsidies.

Last August, the Interstate Commerce Commission estimated that if all railroad lines eligible for subsidies applied for them then and there to cover passenger deficits, the initial drain would be at least $52 million.

Railroad spokesmen have pointed to the prospect that government ownership of railroads might come through the back door if rail lines are forced to borrow so much federal money to meet their obligations they cannot repay what they owe.

RAILROAD MERGERS are not a theory to be discussed at leisure. Nor are airline mergers or any of the combinations that businessmen seek in order to get control of rising costs.

In railroads and airlines, moreover, the government and its taxpayers have a vital and immediate interest. Either they make enough money to pay their way or they will get public money to keep them in business for the good and sufficient reason the country cannot exist without them.

It is a weird outcome of a badly confused situation in which the public conceals from itself the extent of its own greed by meeting deficits with subsidies and loans, instead of paying what transportation service actually costs.

Too Fast?

We have received complaints about excessive speed downgrade by some of the cars which travel St. Clair Ave.

After last week's tragic accident which claimed the life of an East Liverpool youth en route to work one would think careful driving would become the order of the day automatically. But apparently not in view of the complaints

St. Clair Ave. is not a grade to be taken lightly even by the most experienced driver. Too many things can happen in too short a time. St. Clair at its best — with a new pavement and ideal weather conditions — would call for careful driving. And at its worst, as at present — badly-battered and often wet and icy — it presents a challenge to any motorist who wishes to reach the bottom safe and sound.

No chances should be taken on St. Clair Ave. at any time.

Who Will Be Next?

Eliot Ness and his men couldn't have done it any better.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, in commenting on the raid, said that surveillance indicated people were traveling to and from other states in connection with the nightly gambling.

With this in mind, there are other places where the sledgehammers and automatic weapons also could be put to good use.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I like your idea about remembering that the Russians have to get into their pants one leg at a time like the rest of us.

It isn't my privilege to know any of the boys in the Kremlin, but man and boy I've known a lot of Russians who'd have been sent to Siberia if they hadn't left the old country in time — and all of them were one-leg-at-a-time men.

It's no secret that some of us have been a touch psychopathic about the Russians, and I can tell you how it happened. Before World War II we hated Communists but weren't afraid of Russians. The Russians couldn't fight their way out of a bowl of borsch, we thought — nice enough people who had been pushed around by czars and despots but helpless when it came to fighting.

But after they had chewed up and spit out the famous Germany army, things looked different. We began to be afraid of Russians, along with hating Communists. It was a frightening combination — one outfit dedicated to doing us in, the other capable of doing the job, we thought.

At that time we didn't even know how capable the Russian fighting organization would look when equipped with atomic fission and intercontinental ballistic missiles. It's no wonder we're nervous.

But we need to remember about the one-leg-at-a-time part, lest we forget what most old-timers know because we learned from experience. The most dreadful things that can happen to you don't happen. The broth is never served as hot at it's cooked. The smart navigator makes allowances for wind drift. There's many a slip betwixt etc. You get the idea.

The only thing we ever really had to fear was an alliance of Communist countries, not any single communist country. No one can fight without allies, and Russia has no allies.

It has prisoners and it also has dependents. But it has no friends, and in the nature of things it never can have friends, because of its absolutism. Either you are 100 per cent for the Kremlin, or the Kremlin is 100 per cent against you.

Not long after the first shot had been fired, the Russians would have to post guards to protect themselves from all sides in a war. They cannot agree with Chinese Communists, Yugoslav Communists, Albanian Communists, or U. S. Communists.

They are at odds with East German Communists, Polish Communists, Czech Communists, Bulgarian Communists, Romanian Communists and French and Italian Communists. They cannot even agree among themselves. They must be scared into keeping their mouths shut.

But to watch them perform, the miracle is that they can do anything for themselves.

They are unbeatable at psychological warfare. They keep us scared half to death all the time. We know more about the carryings on of their head man Khrushchev than we know about our own. We're as fascinated as a chicken watching a snake doing a snake dance.

It isn't easy to remember that these fellows get into their pants one leg at a time. But it's important to remember it, before they scare us to death. Your Aunt Effie sends regards and best wishes. So do I, if you insist.

Cotton Corners — UNCLE GEORGE

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Bank robbers are becoming almost as numerous as depositors. Nobody can be sure whether a visitor is approaching with bankbook or a note. Open-faced glass-front bank in heart of New York was held up despite fact this Jesse James was giving performance in full view of crowds. Nobody noticed him.

Stickup men are getting extra bold and may be unhappy that so little attention is paid to them. They don't want attention too fast but think they are entitled to morning-after reviews by critics.

We can imagine bandits entertaining selves with imaginary quotes such as "Most Stirring Robbery of Season," "Bank Heist a Thriller," "Bandid Gives Flawless Performance," "Holdup, A Hit," etc. Way the bandits get away with it is amazing, especially in full stage setting and under floodlights. They all use the same note and are there to draw out more money than most depositors.

Jeff Bludsoe, terror of the Old West, found it much harder to rob banks. "Everybody seemed to notice a bandit at work. And we realized we had to be careful about spectators and bright lights," he said. "We had to work in groups.

Today, they work alone and almost always carry an announcer and press agent. Of course in the old days banks looked tougher. No music, no dancing, no floor shows. Just well fortified money."

BASHIR, PAKISTAN camel driver who visited United States now has a pickup truck as gift from United States. Hope he doesn't get confused and try to ride on top of truck or take the camel in to have shock absorbers fixed.

Two American towns reputed to have been biggest gambling places east of Las Vegas now want them declared distress areas, as a result of police crackdown. They want to get the wheels turning again.

British jurists are here studying U. S. Supreme Court. They want to find out how so many judges can disagree with so little effort on so many laws.

New York's new traffic commissioner, Henry Barnes, has arrived to straighten things out and will begin as soon as can find a couple of open streets.

He will try out his scrambled system known as "Barnes Dance," under which autos at a crossing stop dead and pedestrians rush across from all corners. Pedestrians have been doing this for years, but auto drivers will need rehearsals.

Mr. Barnes in an interview said he could be very profane when necessary. But his comment when stalled by a huge crane in narrow street was "This is one of the problems." (Come on, Henry, you can speak more colorfully than that.)

Shadow Over The Kremlin Wall

Romney, A New Presidential Star?

His Success Formula Could Also Click In Field Of Politics

LANSING, MICH.

Considering his achievements to date as an industrialist, business executive, salesman, promoter of civic causes and leader in the Mormon Church, many people figure the Romney success formula is bound to click also in the field of politics.

The Republican and Democratic professionals are well aware that the 54-year-old president of American Motors Co. has never run for public office or even worked an election precinct. But they are careful about applying the words "political novice."

So far he has said publicly only that he is thinking of running for governor, and will declare himself in or out of the race by Feb. 10.

But the mere prospect of having George Romney head the ticket — and visions of him amassing votes as he did profits on the spectacularly successful Rambler — has Republicans smiling and Democrats frowning.

Meanwhile, it is becoming more and more obvious that Mr. Romney is one of those exceedingly rare individuals who suddenly crop up as "naturals" for elective office. His knack for turning obstacles into assets keeps amazing Romney well wishers and confounding his opponents.

But elsewhere in the country, including the headquarters of both national parties in Washington, he is viewed as the hottest "new face" or "dark horse" prospect for a Republican presidential nomination since Wendell L. Willkie, the 1940 nominee and Dwight D. Eisenhower, who made it in 1952.

MR. ROMNEY'S national prospects depend largely of course on whether he stands for governor this year, and wins.

Among his home-staters, most Republican leaders, many independents and some authentic Democrats are insisting that he succumb to his own apparent inclinations, and run.

Appeals are also piling up from beyond Michigan's borders. Perhaps the most enthusiastic have come from Gen. Eisenhower and former Vice President Nixon.

While his pending candidacy for governor would be Mr. Romney's first effort at office seeking, he already has touched a toe to the campaign water — and found it deliciously inviting.

In his first actual appeal for votes — the race for delegate to the Constitutional Convention from Oakland County last September— Mr. Romney was opposed by a popular Democratic attorney and town councilman named William A. O'Brien. Mr. Romney swept to victory by a 3-1 margin, carrying such overwhelmingly Democratic communities as Hazel Park, Oak Park and Pontiac, which nominally range from 60 to 75 per cent Democratic.

Afterward, Councilman O'Brien declared: "I don't know of anybody in recent Oakland County history who was beaten as badly as I was."

With Mr. Romney as leader, the Republicans surprised themselves and practically everyone else, by winning control of the Convention by 99-45.

Despite his continuing responsibilities as president of American Motors and "bishop" of the Mormon Church in the Detroit area, Mr. Romney has one of the convention's best work-and-attendance records.

ADJUSTING to a political career will not be easy even for as determined an individual as George Romney. He is a bona fide Republican but hardly an orthodox one.

In 1959 when Michigan was in one of its "cash crises" and could not meet current payrolls because of the endless partisan bickering between the Democratic governor and the Republican Senate, Mr. Romney formed the "Citizens for Michigan" organization. Its objective was to serve the state as an un-partisan third force with no direct links to either political party.

The well-advertised Romney non-partisanship and unorthodoxy was for a while a source of many headaches within his own party.

But his methods seem to have smoothed out considerably since the early days of the convention last fall when he grated on both Republican and Democratic nerves, chiefly by insisting that party lines be ignored in organizing and conducting the charter-writing convention.

The professionals won, and the convention offices and committees were divided along party lines, 2-1 Republican.

"George is adjusting himself (to reality)", said a close friend. "As he is more and more exposed to the delegates, his problems become solved and he is still the genuinely straight-forward sort of guy he always was."

One of the most expert Republican politicians in Michigan said the party people are so anxious to "rally around a winner" that if someone shouted "Those for Romney fall in line," the parade would be the biggest in the state's history.

A POLITICAL intimate of his noted: "When George came to the convention at first, his exposure to Republicans had been extremely limited. Now the outstate party people know he is a man without horns."

Inadvertently, the old guard did Mr. Romney a favor by refusing to elect him president of the convention. If he now held that office it would be extremely difficult and perhaps impossible for him to run for governor in good conscience.

George Wilcken Romney was born July 8, 1907, in the Mormon colony in Mexico, to which his grandparents fled to escape religious persecution in Airzona.

At the age of 5 he also was in a Mormon exodus fleeing to Texas to escape the crossfire of a Mexican revolution.

It is questionable that his birth outside the borders of continental United States would be a deterring factor, should George Romney achieve the presidential nomination that some already are predicting for him.

Another U.N. Failure

By David Lawrence

Action Needed To Curb Congo Atrocities

The massacre of at least 18 missionaries and many other civilians in the Congo points up the failure of the United Nations expedition to restore order and to impress the native troops the the lives and property of foreign citizens must be respected.

David Lawrence

So much emphasis has been placed on self-determination and independence for the African countries that relatively little attention has been paid to the utter indifference of many local groups to the need for protecting foreign residents.

The U.N. has admitted many countries as members which are incapable of self-government at this time. They will certainly not be educated or trained for this role unless the U.N. is willing to take steps to punish the murderers and enforce principles of international law.

Unfortunately, massacrs have occurred in recent months without any action having been taken by the U.N., and it may be that the native groups now feel free to do as they please in the belief that no disciplinary action will ever be taken from the outside.

It wasn't so many years ago when powerful nations were quick to take punitive steps if any of their own citizens or their property were molested. In recent years the propaganda against colonialism — stimulated by Communist sources — has caused the major powers to hesitate to use force to protect their nationals. They are reaping the consequences of their policy of neglect.

Some of the big mining interests which have invested huge sums in the Congo have built hospitals and schools. They have performed many services similar to those which the Peace Corps of the United States is being widely publicized as planning to do in Africa.

But the big foreign interests now find their properties imperiled and their employes threatened so that continuity of mining operations has been made very difficult.

SOONER OR LATER the U.N. will have to go back to first principles in international law — acts that assure the protection of the lives and property of foreign residents.

To read that 18 priests — 16 Belgian and 2 Dutch citizens — were "whipped, mowed down by gunfire, and their bodies horribly mutilated," with the same kind of treatment accorded other civilians, brings to mind similar instances of savagery which have occurred in Africa since independence was granted to various colonies there.

The fact that each one of the African countries, even if it has only a population of 500,000, now has a vote equal to that of the United States in the U.N. General Assembly will make Americans wonder if some revamping of the whole charter is not in order.

Voting strength in the U.N. should be based on the literate population.

This might give Russia a few more votes than it has today, but it would also give Latin-American countries more votes and more to the other countries of the free world.

Actually, the Soviet Union today has more votes in the U.N. than does the United States. This was agreed to be the Roosevelt administration in 1945 on the theory that the free world would still have a huge majority.

Unfortunately, with the admission of half-civilized countries of Africa, it is easy for the Communists today to infiltrate them and obtain control of their votes in the U.N.

THE RECENT massacres in the Congo, for instance, are being attributed to troops under the leadership of Antoine Gizenga, a Communist stooge who was then deputy premier of the Central Congo Government.

There will be little chance of seeing a U.N. resolution passed which would authorize collective military action against the perpetrators of the atrocities just reported from Leopoldville.

The soldiers who committed the crime were in the forces of the Central Congolese Government, which is fully recognized by the U.N. unless steps are taken to hold the Central Government accountable for what has happened and a show of military force is made, the incidents are likely to be repeated.

The time for forceful action to protect foreign lives and property in the Congo would seem to be at hand.

Whenever a country shows itself totally incapable of self-government, the establishment of an international trusteeship would appear to be a logical formula to apply. The Congo is desperately in need of such a set-up. It can be continuously supervised by the U.N. complete self - government could be granted when the capacity to live up to international obligations was assured.

Lessons From Whales

By Stuart H. Lorry

Can an old gray whale teach a new Polaris submarine any worthwhile tricks?

Maybe, says William V. Kielhorn, an oceanographer who likes to combine business with pleasure —in this case, fishing with anti-submarine warfare research.

Sometime later this year, Mr. Kielhorn will fly a small, quiet airplane out over a school of 40-to-60-foot-long gray whales sunning themselves in the Pacific.

While the pilot glides in over the whales, trying not to arouse them, Mr. Kielhorn will lean out the hatch, lift a harpoon gun to his shoulder, take aim and fire at one of his targets.

If Mr. Kielhorn is in good form that day, a small dart will penetrate a whale's back and the mammal will go swimming off to avoid another attack. On the whale's back will be implanted a sound transmitting device.

Then the company's floating marine laboratory, the Sea Quest, will follow the whale, recording electronic data from the sound transmitter, charting the whale's diving track and learning more of his underwater habits.

MR. KIELHORN is manager of Lockheed's Anti-Submarine Warfare and Ocean Systems Technology Division but speaking frankly, he doesn't expect the whale work to be extremly helpful in building attack-proof submarines or in helping devise ways of defending against subs.

Little is known about the habits of the gray whale, a "baleen" (toothless) whale. All Mr. Kielhorn knows is that they're "spooky," the sport fisherman's term for shy, in the presence of sport fishermen.

Thus, all the Lockheed work (paid for with company and not government funds) is basic research.

"We're using gray whales because they're so darn common around here," Mr. Kielhorn said in a telephone interview the other day. "If it works, I'd like to try it with other fish — swordfish and sharks, for example."

In other work, the oceanographers have set out a sound-catching picket fence in Scammon's Lagoon in Lower California to record the noises of gray whales. "We're trying to establish a library and atlas of noises in the seas. One of the big problems with sonar still is that operators record false contacts.

IN OTHER WORDS, sub detectors misinterpret sounds from fish as coming from submarines. With a more inclusive sound library, the mistakes would not be made as often.

Mr. Kielhorn's experiment is the latest in man's attempts to learn more of the marine world for science. Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston, once tried attaching electrocardiographs to whales by harpoon, to record their heartbeats. At Lockheed, Dr. John Dreher studies the foreheads of bottle-nosed dolphins to learn more of the sonar devices with which nature has endowed them.

In Miami, Dr. John C. Lilly of the Communications Research Institute seeks to learn if dolphins can be taught English and also has plans for sonar tracking. The Office of Naval Research is also supporting research on dolphins and whales and work is being carried out by the Woods Hole, Mass. Oceanographic Institute.

Pray For Speedy Success

It is being pointed out that American railroads now are in their second round of mergers. The first round, little lines that had been built on financial speculation, were put together in service combinations. This round, the service combinations that emerged from the first round are putting together their resources for financial security.

The public is more than an interested spectator.

It is more than a stockholder.

It is a partner in railroad deficits. It must pray for the speedy success of every merger that promises to get rid of red ink in favor of black ink.

The public is a partner not only in railroad deficits but in all the potential transportation deficits that are plaguing operating companies.

AIRLINE MERGERS and truckline mergers are in the works and in the offing. While railroad troubles are related to declining use of rail facilities, parts of the transportation industry with increasing use are in financial trouble, too.

Their costs of operation keep going up faster than their ability to earn money. They are caught in a squeez between ever-mounting labor rates and ever-growing costs of material.

Railroads estimate that federal, state and local governments have spent $162 billion since 1955 on highways, waterways, airways, airports and related facilities used by competing commercial carriers and on airline subsidies.

Last August, the Interstate Commerce Commission estimated that if all railroad lines eligible for subsidies applied for them then and there to cover passenger deficits, the initial drain would be at least $52 million.

Railroad spokesmen have pointed to the prospect that government ownership of railroads might come through the back door if rail lines are forced to borrow so much federal money to meet their obligations they cannot repay what they owe.

RAILROAD MERGERS are not a theory to be discussed at leisure. Nor are airline mergers or any of the combinations that businessmen seek in order to get control of rising costs.

In railroads and airlines, moreover, the government and its taxpayers have a vital and immediate interest. Either they make enough money to pay their way or they will get public money to keep them in business for the good and sufficient reason the country cannot exist without them.

It is a weird outcome of a badly confused situation in which the public conceals from itself the extent of its own greed by meeting deficits with subsidies and loans, instead of paying what transportation service actually costs.

Too Fast?

We have received complaints about excessive speed downgrade by some of the cars which travel St. Clair Ave.

After last week's tragic accident which claimed the life of an East Liverpool youth en route to work one would think careful driving would become the order of the day automatically. But apparently not in view of the complaints

St. Clair Ave. is not a grade to be taken lightly even by the most experienced driver. Too many things can happen in too short a time. St. Clair at its best — with a new pavement and ideal weather conditions — would call for careful driving. And at its worst, as at present — badly-battered and often wet and icy — it presents a challenge to any motorist who wishes to reach the bottom safe and sound.

No chances should be taken on St. Clair Ave. at any time.

Who Will Be Next?

Eliot Ness and his men couldn't have done it any better.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, in commenting on the raid, said that surveillance indicated people were traveling to and from other states in connection with the nightly gambling.

With this in mind, there are other places where the sledgehammers and automatic weapons also could be put to good use.

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: I like your idea about remembering that the Russians have to get into their pants one leg at a time like the rest of us.

It isn't my privilege to know any of the boys in the Kremlin, but man and boy I've known a lot of Russians who'd have been sent to Siberia if they hadn't left the old country in time — and all of them were one-leg-at-a-time men.

It's no secret that some of us have been a touch psychopathic about the Russians, and I can tell you how it happened. Before World War II we hated Communists but weren't afraid of Russians. The Russians couldn't fight their way out of a bowl of borsch, we thought — nice enough people who had been pushed around by czars and despots but helpless when it came to fighting.

But after they had chewed up and spit out the famous Germany army, things looked different. We began to be afraid of Russians, along with hating Communists. It was a frightening combination — one outfit dedicated to doing us in, the other capable of doing the job, we thought.

At that time we didn't even know how capable the Russian fighting organization would look when equipped with atomic fission and intercontinental ballistic missiles. It's no wonder we're nervous.

But we need to remember about the one-leg-at-a-time part, lest we forget what most old-timers know because we learned from experience. The most dreadful things that can happen to you don't happen. The broth is never served as hot at it's cooked. The smart navigator makes allowances for wind drift. There's many a slip betwixt etc. You get the idea.

The only thing we ever really had to fear was an alliance of Communist countries, not any single communist country. No one can fight without allies, and Russia has no allies.

It has prisoners and it also has dependents. But it has no friends, and in the nature of things it never can have friends, because of its absolutism. Either you are 100 per cent for the Kremlin, or the Kremlin is 100 per cent against you.

Not long after the first shot had been fired, the Russians would have to post guards to protect themselves from all sides in a war. They cannot agree with Chinese Communists, Yugoslav Communists, Albanian Communists, or U. S. Communists.

They are at odds with East German Communists, Polish Communists, Czech Communists, Bulgarian Communists, Romanian Communists and French and Italian Communists. They cannot even agree among themselves. They must be scared into keeping their mouths shut.

But to watch them perform, the miracle is that they can do anything for themselves.

They are unbeatable at psychological warfare. They keep us scared half to death all the time. We know more about the carryings on of their head man Khrushchev than we know about our own. We're as fascinated as a chicken watching a snake doing a snake dance.

It isn't easy to remember that these fellows get into their pants one leg at a time. But it's important to remember it, before they scare us to death. Your Aunt Effie sends regards and best wishes. So do I, if you insist.

Bank robbers are becoming almost as numerous as depositors. Nobody can be sure whether a visitor is approaching with bankbook or a note. Open-faced glass-front bank in heart of New York was held up despite fact this Jesse James was giving performance in full view of crowds. Nobody noticed him.

Stickup men are getting extra bold and may be unhappy that so little attention is paid to them. They don't want attention too fast but think they are entitled to morning-after reviews by critics.

We can imagine bandits entertaining selves with imaginary quotes such as "Most Stirring Robbery of Season," "Bank Heist a Thriller," "Bandid Gives Flawless Performance," "Holdup. A Hit," etc. Way the bandits get away with it is amazing, especially in full stage setting and under floodlights. They all use the same note and are there to draw out more money than most depositors.

Jeff Bludsoe, terror of the Old West, found it much harder to rob banks. "Everybody seemed to notice a bandit at work. And we realized we had to be careful about spectators and bright lights," he said. "We had to work in groups.

Today, they work alone and almost always carry an announcer and press agent. Of course in the old days banks looked tougher. No music, no dancing, no floor shows. Just well fortified money."

BASHIR, PAKISTAN camel driver who visited United States now has a pickup truck as gift from United States. Hope he doesn't get confused and try to ride on top of truck or take the camel in to have shock absorbers fixed.

Two American towns reputed to have been biggest gambling places east of Las Vegas now want them declared distress areas, as a result of police crackdown. They want to get the wheels turning again.

British jurists are here studying U. S. Supreme Court. They want to find out how so many judges can disagree with so little effort on so many laws.

New York's new traffic commissioner, Henry Barnes, has arrived to straighten things out and will begin as soon as can find a couple of open streets.

He will try out his scrambled system known as "Barnes Dance," under which autos at a crossing stop dead and pedestrians rush across from all corners. Pedestrians have been doing this for years, but auto drivers will need rehearsals.

Mr. Barnes in an interview said he could be very profane when necessary. But his comment when stalled by a huge crane in narrow street was "This is one of the problems." (Come on, Henry, you can speak more colorfully than that.)

Shadow Over The Kremlin Wall

Romney, A New Presidential Star?

His Success Formula Could Also Click In Field Of Politics

LANSING, MICH.

George W. Romney, the newest star in America's political firmament, shows signs of becoming one of the most dazzling.

Considering his achievements to date as an industrialist, business executive, salesman, promoter of civic causes and leader in the Mormon Church, many people figure the Romney success formula is bound to click also in the field of politics.

The Republican and Democratic professionals are well aware that the 54-year-old president of American Motors Co. has never run for public office or even worked an election precinct. But they are careful about applying the words "political novice."

So far he has said publicly only that he is thinking of running for governor, and will declare himself in or out of the race by Feb. 10.

But the mere prospect of having George Romney head the ticket — and visions of him amassing votes as he did profits on the spectacularly successful Rambler — has Republicans smiling and Democrats frowning.

Meanwhile, it is becoming more and more obvious that Mr. Romney is one of those exceedingly rare individuals who suddenly crop up as "naturals" for elective office. His knack for turning obstacles into assets keeps amazing Romney well wishers and confounding his opponents.

In his home state, nearly all the talk about George Romney is at the "governor" level.

But elsewhere in the country, including the headquarters of both national parties in Washington, he is viewed as the hottest "new face" or "dark horse" prospect for a Republican presidential nomination since Wendell L. Willkie, the 1940 nominee and Dwight D. Eisenhower, who made it in 1952.

MR. ROMNEY'S national prospects depend largely of course on whether he stands for governor this year, and wins.

Among his home-staters, most Republican leaders, many independents and some authentic Democrats are insisting that he succumb to his own apparent inclinations, and run.

Appeals are also piling up from beyond Michigan's borders. Perhaps the most enthusiastic have come from Gen. Eisenhower and former Vice President Nixon.

While his pending candidacy for governor would be Mr. Romney's first effort at office seeking, he already has touched a toe to the campaign water — and found it deliciously inviting.

In his first actual appeal for votes — the race for delegate to the Constitutional Convention from Oakland County last September— Mr. Romney was opposed by a popular Democratic attorney and town councilman named William A. O'Brien. Mr. Romney swept to victory by a 3-1 margin, carrying such overwhelmingly Democratic communities as Hazel Park, Oak Park and Pontiac, which nominally range from 60 to 75 per cent Democratic.

Afterward, Councilman O'Brien declared: "I don't know of anybody in recent Oakland County history who was beaten as badly as I was."

With Mr. Romney as leader, the Republicans surprised themselves and practically everyone else, by winning control of the Convention by 99-45.

Despite his continuing responsibilities as president of American Motors and "bishop" of the Mormon Church in the Detroit area, Mr. Romney has one of the convention's best work-and-attendance records.

ADJUSTING to a political career will not be easy even for as determined an individual as George Romney. He is a bona fide Republican but hardly an orthodox one.

In 1959 when Michigan was in one of its "cash crises" and could not meet current payrolls because of the endless partisan bickering between the Democratic governor and the Republican Senate, Mr. Romney formed the "Citizens for Michigan" organization. Its objective was to serve the state as an un-partisan third force with no direct links to either political party.

The well-advertised Romney non-partisanship and unorthodoxy was for a while a source of many headaches within his own party.

But his methods seem to have smoothed out considerably since the early days of the convention last fall when he grated on both Republican and Democratic nerves, chiefly by insisting that party lines be ignored in organizing and conducting the charter-writing convention.

The professionals won, and the convention offices and committees were divided along party lines, 2-1 Republican.

One of the most expert Republican politicians in Michigan said the party people are so anxious to "rally around a winner" that if someone shouted "Those for Romney fall in line," the parade would be the biggest in the state's history.

$793,000 Paid Monthly

12,200 In County Given Aid From Social Security

An estimated 12,200 Columbiana County residents received approximately $793,000 each month during 1961 in Social Security benefits, William J. McCauley, manager of the federal agency's district office at Youngstown, said today.

Overall payments of $35 million went to the 42,800 beneficiaries in the Columbiana-Mahoning County area served by the office, McCauley said. Mahoning County has 30,600 beneficiaries who were paid $2,162,000 monthly in 1961.

He said the payments represent a boost of $3,799,000 over disbursements in 1960 and a hike of $6,328,000 over 1959. A full report will be released in March, he added.

All types of benefit payments are included in the figures. Leading the list are retired workers.

A further breakdown shows the following beneficiaries:

Mahoning County: wives, 4,729, getting $218,039 monthly; children, 2,768, getting $157,-003; disabled men, women and children, 1,025, getting $83,068 monthly; widows, 4,014, getting $251,942; mothers, 764, getting $51,770; parents, 81, getting $5,-332.

Columbiana County; wives, 1,694 getting $71,093 monthly; children, 1,180 getting $63,800; disabled men, women and children, 466 getting $34,263 a month; widows, 1,364 getting $80,794; mothers, 279 getting $18,292, and parents, 20 getting $1,387.

McCauley says that without a doubt this money is spent in the district and almost immediately, so that, unlike some influxes of cash, it provides direct benefit to the local economy.

He lists several major reasons for the dramatic rise in both the number of beneficiaries and the payments. Congress recently authorized men at age 62 to retire with reduced benefits; increased the minimum benefit paid to retired workers from $33 to $40 per month; increased benefits paid aged widows by 10 per cent, and relaxed requirements for insured eligibility.

Furthermore, most people who receive benefits and also work, now have fewer benefits withheld. If they can earn $1,200 or less a year, they can receive all the monthly benefits. If earnings exceed that mark, some money is withheld — $1 for each $2 earned between $1,200 and $1,700, and $1 for each $1 earned over $1,700.

However much is earned over a year, though, they get a check for any month in which earnings do not exceed $100. Persons 72 and over received benefits regardless of earnings.

McCauley advised that there are four times when persons should contact his office: (1) when a worker in the family dies; (2) upon total and permanent disability; (3) shortly before reaching 62, and (4) when a person reaches 72. The Youngstown office is located at 35 Central Square.

CANCER FATAL. Sen. Andrew F. Schoeppel, R-Kan., 67, died Sunday at the Bethesda (Md.) Naval Hospital while undergoing treatment for cancer. Twice governor of his native Kansas, Schoeppel was elected to the Senate in 1948 and twice was re-elected.

Fake Appeal Jails Man, 20

"You're going to have to be taught a lesson," Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff told a 20-year-old former city man arraigned today on a charge of collecting $1.65 for the March of Dimes under false pretenses.

And a severe lesson it will be for Miley Jenrett of Canton, who formerly resided with a sister in the East End.

Judge Chertoff gave him a 60-day term in the County Jail on the charge filed by Patrolmen K. H. Mooney and Kent Garvey.

Jenrett admitted to the judge that he planned to keep the money collected Friday afternoon in a door-to-door canvass on Anderson Blvd.

Jenrett told the judge he was accompanied by a 15-year-old companion, but declared the collection plan was a joint idea.

The juvenile was scheduled for a hearing today before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon, police said.

"This is the lowest thing I've ever heard of," Judge Chertoff lectured Jenrett. "You're going to have to be taught a lesson. Keep this up and you'll be in the penitentiary; as a matter of fact, I think you already have taken a couple of steps that way," the judge declared before pronouncing sentence.

And the money? It will be turned over to the March of Dimes, city officials indicated.

300 Hear Pop Concert Of School Musicians

Three hundred attended the fifth annual Winter Pop Concert Saturday night in Memorial Auditorium, presented by the East Liverpool High School orchestra and marching band.

The audience was seated at tables giving a night club atmosphere. Serving at the tables were students from the instrumental departments of East Junior and Westgate Junior High Schools and the marching band majorettes.

Mayor At Salineville Frees Wellsville Man

SALINEVILLE — A charge of obstructing traffic against Gary Lee Pisarsky of Wellsville R. D. 2 was dismissed Friday night by Mayor Stanley Fitch and revised parking arrangements were worked out for the site of the complaint.

William Hughes of Twiss Hill filed the charge against Pisarsky, whose auto was parked on a roadway of Twiss Hill. Mayor Fitch said parking is to be banned on the west side of the roadway and signs are to be erected.

Lyman Beagle of R. D. was fined $50 and costs, with the fine suspended, on a charge of reckless operation.

Civil Defense Movie Shown At NCCW Meeting In Lisbon

Thirty women from East Liverpool, Salem, East Palestine, Wellsville, Summitville, Kensington, Hanoverton and Lisbon attended a meeting of the Columbiana Deanery Council of the National Council of Catholic Women Saturday afternoon at St. George's Parish Hall in Lisbon.

Women of the Altar and Rosary Society were the hostesses. Mrs. William Thompson, a past president of the society, welcomed the guests in the absence of Fr. William Hohman, who is on vacation, and also introduced the new president of the Altar and Rosary Society, Mrs. John Novak.

Mrs. Carter Presides

Mrs. Robert Carter, president of the deanery council, conducted a general business session. She turned the meeting over to Mrs. Edna Sweeney, East Liverpool Civil Defense secretary, who showed a CD film "Food for Thought."

A social hour followed, with refreshments served from a buffet table, laid in a white and gold cloth with white tapers in candelabra and centered with a statue of the Virgin Mary and an arrangement of mixed flowers.

Mrs. Walter Ewing and Miss Josephine Furey presided at the silver services.

Serving on the committee were Mrs. Ewing, Mrs. Anna Gruber, Mrs. Mary Gill and Mrs. Sherman Shugars.

Next Meeting Set

The next regular meeting will be March 17 at St. Philip Neri Church in Dungannon.

Mrs. Richard Kennedy of North St. was hostess to club associates Friday evening for games of bridge.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. William Kessler and Mrs. John C. Lewis, a guest.

Mrs. Kessler will receive the group in February.

Duplicate bridge was the diversion Friday night when Mrs. Fred Steele of N. Market St. Ext. entertained members of the Optimistic Club. No date was set for the next meeting.

Attend Youth Meeting

Cheryl Walton, Linda Morgan, Carmen Gibson, Cheryl Daugherty, Linda Zitto, Marsha Hunter, Becky Biggins, Nancy Miller, Roger Faulk, Dick Zitto, John Peterson, Tim Wilfong and John Holshue, young people of the Christian Youth Fellowship of the First Christian Church, attended a two-day rally and retreat held in Warren over the weekend for district Christian Church youths.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walton, the Rev. William Spangler, Mrs. Fred Reese and Denny Reese took the group to Warren Friday night.

"From These Hills—the King" will be the topic for the "Thursday at Seven" service this week at Trinity United Presbyterian Church. The candlelight garden of prayer, song service and message will close at 8 p.m.

Retired Judge Dies

HURON, S.D. (AP)— Archibald K. Gardner, 94, oldest federal judge in the country when he retired from the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in 1960, died Sunday. He wrote the only dissent when his court reversed a federal District Court decision and held that racial desegregation must be resumed in Central High School at Little Rock, Ark.

Emergency Fuel Feed Rig Blamed For Blaze In Car

An emergency fuel feed system, utilizing a squirt can, failed to get a 39-year-old East Palestine area motorist home as hoped Sunday afternoon when his 1962 French station wagon caught fire on Route 14 east of Columbiana.

George Batchelor of East Palestine R.D. 2 told the Ohio Highway Patrol the vehicle developed fuel pump trouble and in an effort to get home he used a squirt can to inject fuel into the feed line as he drove east.

Officers said the motor backfired, and the area about the motorblock ignited, causing damage to the wiring, steering, windshield and rest of the car.

Columbiana volunteer firemen were summoned to quell the blaze at the site, about a fifth of a mile west of the intersection with Route 7. The mishap occurred at 4:15 p. m.

William S. Acton, 19, of Steubenville R.D. 1 suffered a bruised left arm when his car rammed into guardrails then bounced back across Route 39 a mile west of Wellsville Saturday.

Officers said Acton was headed west about 10:25 a. m. when his car swerved, hit guardrails on the left side of the road then went back across the highway.

He was cited for traveling at a speed in excess of safe road conditions.

Fund Project Planned By Newell's Auxiliary

A project of cooking and serving dinners for public groups was selected as a fund-raising activity when the women's auxiliary of the Newell volunteer fire department met Friday night.

Seven attended with Mrs. Arch Coen, 217 Grant St.

Organizations interested in having the auxiliary cook and serve dinners in the fire station are to contact Mrs. Helen Cordray at EV 7-1601 for details.

The officers elected Jan. 5 are Mrs. Jeannette Mercer, president; Mrs. Esther Lamp, vice president; Mrs. Gerry Coen, treasurer, and Mrs. Cordray, secretary.

The auxiliary spent $150 for helmets for firemen in December. Next meeting is Feb. 9 at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Charles Lee, 430 Jefferson St.

Registration Planned In Extension Courses

Registration will be held Wednesday at 7 p. m. at the High School, when Geneva College Extension Classes will re-organize for the second semester.

Mrs. Donna Allison, the local college representative, announced the tentative schedule. It includes Political Science, Monday, 4:20 p. m.; Language Arts in the Elementary School, Monday, 7 p. m.; Types of Children's Literature, Tuesday, 4:20 and Diagnosis and Prevention of Reading Difficulties, Tuesday, 7; Spanish 102, Wednesday, 4:20, Child Psychology, Thursday, 4:20.

She said other courses will be offered on demand.

New Democratic Club Planned At Wellsville

Plans for formation of a Colored Democratic Club in Wellsville were announced today by Robert Travers, 1229 Clover St., an employe of the State Highway Department.

His brother, William E. Travers of the same address, is serving as temporary secretary.

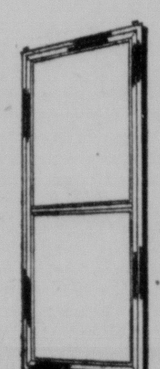

Travers said he has talked with Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, who said he will cooperate with Dominic Cuti, Wellsville city chairman, in giving any aid he can.

Travers said anyone interested may contact him at LE 2-2129. A meeting will be held soon.

HURON, S.D. (AP)— Archibald K. Gardner, 94, oldest federal judge in the country when he retired from the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in 1960, died Sunday. He wrote the only dissent when his court reversed a federal District Court decision and held that racial desegregation must be resumed in Central High School at Little Rock, Ark.

Emergency Fuel Feed Rig Blamed For Blaze In Car

An emergency fuel feed system, utilizing a squirt can, failed to get a 39-year-old East Palestine area motorist home as hoped Sunday afternoon when his 1962 French station wagon caught fire on Route 14 east of Columbiana.

George Batchelor of East Palestine R.D. 2 told the Ohio Highway Patrol the vehicle developed fuel pump trouble and in an effort to get home he used a squirt can to inject fuel into the feed line as he drove east.

Officers said the motor backfired, and the area about the motorblock ignited, causing damage to the wiring, steering, windshield and rest of the car.

Columbiana volunteer firemen were summoned to quell the blaze at the site, about a fifth of a mile west of the intersection with Route 7. The mishap occurred at 4:15 p. m.

William S. Acton, 19, of Steubenville R.D. 1 suffered a bruised left arm when his car rammed into guardrails then bounced back across Route 39 a mile west of Wellsville Saturday.

Officers said Acton was headed west about 10:25 a. m. when his car swerved, hit guardrails on the left side of the road then went back across the highway.

He was cited for traveling at a speed in excess of safe road conditions.

Fund Project Planned By Newell's Auxiliary

A project of cooking and serving dinners for public groups was selected as a fund-raising activity when the women's auxiliary of the Newell volunteer fire department met Friday night.

Seven attended with Mrs. Arch Coen, 217 Grant St.

Organizations interested in having the auxiliary cook and serve dinners in the fire station are to contact Mrs. Helen Cordray at EV 7-1601 for details.

The officers elected Jan. 5 are Mrs. Jeannette Mercer, president; Mrs. Esther Lamp, vice president; Mrs. Gerry Coen, treasurer, and Mrs. Cordray, secretary.

The auxiliary spent $150 for helmets for firemen in December. Next meeting is Feb. 9 at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Charles Lee, 430 Jefferson St.

Registration Planned In Extension Courses

Registration will be held Wednesday at 7 p. m. at the High School, when Geneva College Extension Classes will re-organize for the second semester.

Mrs. Donna Allison, the local college representative, announced the tentative schedule. It includes Political Science, Monday, 4:20 p. m.; Language Arts in the Elementary School, Monday, 7 p. m.; Types of Children's Literature, Tuesday, 4:20 and Diagnosis and Prevention of Reading Difficulties, Tuesday, 7; Spanish 102, Wednesday, 4:20, Child Psychology, Thursday, 4:20.

She said other courses will be offered on demand.

New Democratic Club Planned At Wellsville

Plans for formation of a Colored Democratic Club in Wellsville were announced today by Robert Travers, 1229 Clover St., an employe of the State Highway Department.

His brother, William E. Travers of the same address, is serving as temporary secretary.

Travers said he has talked with Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, who said he will cooperate with Dominic Cuti, Wellsville city chairman, in giving any aid he can.

Travers said anyone interested may contact him at LE 2-2129. A meeting will be held soon.

Kennedy

job training for idle youths and job retraining for out-of-work adults.

The President pledged that this recovery will not be nipped off prematurely—as he said that of 1959 was—by a tight-money policy.

The outlook for stable living costs is favorable, he assured Congress, if unions and industry will show statesmanlike restraint in pay settlements to avoid a spiral of wage and price advance.

The President said the country has achieved the immediate aims he set a year ago—to "recover not from one but from two recessions"—by starting the economy uphill and reducing joblessness while keeping price stability. "Confidence in the dollar has been restored," he said.

This year national output should rise about $50 billion above the $521 billion of 1961, he predicted, adding: "This would be another giant stride toward a fully employed economy."

Kennedy disclosed he would have asked a tax increase to cover the steep rise in spending necessitated by last spring's Berlin crisis if the economy had been in better shape.

For the first time since the Truman administration, the annual economic message specified goals which, in the President's opinion, would accomplish the intent of the Employment Act of 1946. That law committed the government to policies which would maintain "maximum employment, production and purchasing power."

Any doubts that Kennedy means business about his antirecession program were dispelled by the serious and urgent tone of the message. On the tax-cutting, the pump priming and jobless pay proposals he said: "They will constitute the greatest step forward in public policy for economic stability since the (employment) act itself."

The prime goal for 1963 is a 4 per cent unemployment rate, Kennedy said. He called this a "temporary target," one-third below the present 6.1 per cent rate of joblessness.

With it, the President said, would come these record-breaking dollar measurements of prosperity:

Sixty billion dollars of before-tax business profits, as against $46 billion last year and a hoped-for $56 billion this year.

About $600 billion worth of output of goods and services, far above last year's $521 billion and this year's anticipated $565 billion to $570 billion.

Kennedy stressed that while "the material gains are themselves staggering," as blueprinted by his report, his goal for unemployment—down to 5 per cent by the end of this year, 4 per cent by mid-1963—were not the final objectives.

"We cannot afford to settle for any prescribed level of unemployment," the message said.

He replied to the outcry already raised in Congress by the first mention of his standby tax and public work proposals in the State of the Union message. The revenue loss would be smaller than what a recession costs in pay and production losses and shrunken tax collections, he said. And Congress would write into the law the safeguards to protect its taxing power, he argued.

"I am not asking Congress to delegate its power to levy taxes," Kennedy added, "but to authorize a temporary and emergency suspension of taxes by the President —subject to the checkrein of Congressional veto — in situations where time is of the essence.

The tax cut "would remain in effect six months, subject to revision or renewal by the same process"—that is, by presidential action, subject to veto—"or extension by a joint resolution of Congress."

In equivalent detail Kennedy spelled out his request for power to "accelerate and initiate" up to $2 billion of works projects when unemployment is rising.

The President could act, under this plan, within two months after the unemployment rate (1) had risen in at least three out of four months and (2) had risen at least 1 percentage point higher than its level four months earlier. These time periods could be lengthened if Congress preferred, the message indicated.

Before taking action, the President would have to make a finding that "current and prospective economic developments" required such measures, under the Employment Act.

His proposals for bolstering jobless pay were familiar in the main, having been laid before Congress last year and modeled after the temporary measures taken by Congress in the last two recessions.

Kennedy suggested "incentives" for the states to improve their jobless benefits, so that most idle workers would receive at least half their average weekly wage.

Kennedy suggested that Congress "will wish to examine carefully" proposals for removal of the ceiling on the federal debt and the 4¼ per cent ceiling on the interest rates on Treasury bonds. But he did not directly ask their removal.

However, in his budget message Kennedy asked that the 'temporary" debt ceiling be boosted to $308 billion. The debt now is pushing against the present limit of $298 billion.

Thomas Washam of Lisbon was elected publicity chairman. The next meeting will be Feb. 18 with Brown of Salem.

Traffic

front of Winter's car and the rear of Wilson's, police said.

Winters drew a fine of $25 and costs this morning from Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after entering a "no defense" plea to the charge.

Four autos were damaged in two similar crashes in the same East End locale Saturday within a space of 16 minutes.

The first collision was at Pennsylvania Ave. and Andrews Pl. at 4:29 p. m. It involved a 1956 two-door sedan driven by Gennaro Gianvito, 20, of Industry R. D. 1 and a 1956 four-door driven by Clinton R. Alderman, 26, of Box 288.

Gianvito told police he was halted in a line of traffic when his car was hit from the rear. Alderman said he was unable to halt in time.

The second crash was at 4:45 on Pennsylvania Ave. 50 feet west of Andrews Pl. It involved a 1958 four-door sedan driven by George Gilson, 33, of Box 36, Chester, and a 1960 four-door operated by Daniel Mayak, 27, of Box 16, Stratton.

Gilson told police he was halted in a line of traffic when his car was hit from the rear. Mayak told police he was blinded by sun on his windshield and did not see Gilson's car in time to halt.

A skid was blamed for a collision on Ohio Ave. at Elizabeth St. at 4:06 p. m. Saturday.

It involved a 1959 two-door operated by Jack B. Laughlin, 31, of 2025 Michigan Ave., headed south on Elizabeth St., and a 1959 imported compact car operated by Lemuel Walker, 46, of 503 Main St., Wellsville, driving west on Ohio Ave.

Laughlin said Walker's car skided into his vehicle. Walker said he was intending to turn onto Elizabeth St., but his auto skidded and hit the left side of Laughlin's car.

A skid also was blamed for a mishap Saturday at 11:10 p. m. in the 300 block of Broadway that damaged a parked car.

A southbound car driven by Daisy Mae Adkins, 28, of 1501 Globe St., skidded on slippery pavement and hit a parked 1958 four-door sedan owned by Stanton D. Eddy of Hillcrest, Wellsville, police said. The left rear of the Eddy car was damaged.

A mishap on Walnut St. at Pleasant Alley Saturay at 12:39 p. m. involved a 1951 station wagon driven by William Lee Badgley, 21, of Radio Heights and a 1956 four-door sedan driven by Dorothy C. Vodrey of Elysian Way, police said.

Another collision Saturday at 11:59 a. m. on St. Clair Ave. at Blackmore St. involved a 1955 four-door sedan driven by David O'Hanlon, 35, of Ashland Pl. and a 1960 model driven by William White, 31, of 403 Azalea Ave., police said. O'Hanlon was operating a car owned by M. & A. Motors of Pennsylvania Ave., police said.

Hunters Needn't Go Home Empty-Handed

GRATIS, Ohio (AP) — Pheasant hunters in southwest Ohio know they don't have to go home empty-handed.

They need only stop at Dan Petry's farm west of Gratis to buy a few of the 3,000 or so birds he has on hand.

"Most of my orders are for commercial game preserves," he says, "but I get a lot of orders for single birds, especially around Thanksgiving and Christmas time."

Petry raises the birds carefully from chicks, and at 16 weeks the nearly grown birds get the run of the farm — with a small strap over a wing to prevent flight.

Some hunters say they get a better meal by buying Petry's pheasants because they are raised on special feed and are tender, since they can't fly.

He'll also sell them dressed, ready for the oven, and that goes over a lot better than a wild bird with the hunter's wife.

ship was merged with Southern Local district last fall by the County Board of Education.

Some residents of the township have continued opposition to the merger, claiming the distance to the planned Southern Local High School east of Salineville will be inconvenient for Franklin area students.

A court order, resulting from action by Franklin residents headed by Fred Johnson, brought the county board to grant a petition by the Franklin group for an election on a proposed merger of Franklin with three Carroll County districts.

An election for all of Southern Local district on the merger proposal was scheduled for Feb. 13, but indications of an appeal on the election provision has halted printing of ballots.

Franklin residents are hoping to get an election within their own district, rather than throughout the Southern Local district which includes Salineville, Highlandtown, Yellow Creek and Wayne areas.

Southern Local officials today said they are willing to provide funds for the Franklin teachers, but want the full records of the Franklin district in order to understand the whole financial picture and take proper action.

Low Calorie Pattern Means Weight Loss

A wise and experienced doctor once counseled your dietitian, "Help your dieters to hold on through the discouraging periods, whenever they may occur. Assure them that if they stay with a protective, low calorie pattern, the will always lose the right amount in the long run despite weight plateaus."

Ida Jean Kain

One dieter wrote, "I believe a person should never start a diet unless she knows something about what to expect. I learned from experience.

"I used to try to diet, but I would soon lose faith. I had no gauge to know whether I was doing well or poorly. The greatest help came from your columns in which you told us what to expect. It is like having a friend to call on for help."

ALL RIGHT, here is what to expect: There will be times when you will not lose, diet to the contrary. An actual chart of weight losses drawn on graph paper would resemble rickety stair steps, with a down-line, followed by a level line, then another irregular down trend.

Along about the fifth or sixth week, dieters invariably hit a prolonged weight plateau. When this occurs, you may not lose again for a period of two or even three weeks. Dieters, hold to the course, you will lose!

It helps to be in-the-know about sweets, also. The inordinate craving for sweets in the early stages of the diet is often a real hurdle. If you are in the habit of eating sweets, this initial craving is quite normal.

Nature takes a little time to adjust to change. The mechanism which the body has set up to handle the accustomed inflow of carbohydrates remains in full force for a time. Within two or three weeks the sharp appetite-demand will diminish perceptibly.

Knowing that the craving will not go on for too long, you can concentrate on surmounting the problem rather than being overwhelmed by it. In fact, a change from a high carbohydrate to a high protein diet can bring a dramatic weight loss. Also, protein stays by you and helps allay hunger.

On the sweet score: Be on guard for a few weeks and after that nature will cooperate.

KNOW FOR sure that if you stay with your protective, low calorie pattern of eating through the ups and downs of a reducing course, you will reach your healthy normal weight.

During a weight plateau, exercise can be a figure - saver. With exercise you can continue to lose inches and keep right on slimming your measurements even though you do not lose pounds. Carry on!

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for "Choose To Lose Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents in Wayne County accounted for more than one-third of Ohio's weekend highway death toll during the past 54-hour period.

At least four persons lost their lives in auto mishaps in the north-central Ohio county. Over-all the toll stood at at least 11 deaths in traffic, three in fires and three others in miscellaneous accidents.

Three persons, including two in Wayne County, were killed in train-car accidents. And in the only other multiple - death*crash, two Preble County persons died in a truck-car collision just east of the Ohio-Indiana line on U.S. 40.

All of the miscellaneous deaths had some connection with the cold, snowy weather over the state this weekend. A 1-year-old Cincinnati boy died of carbon monoxide poisoning in a car which was kept idling to keep the occupants warm; a Sandusky youth drowned when he fell through the ice on Sandusky Bay where he was skating, and a Lakewood boy died when his sled slammed into a tree at the foot of a hill down which he was coasting.

The toll, however, was the lowest over-all of the year, and the traffic death count equalled the low set on the New Year's weekend.

The fatalities:

Friday Night

Rodney Woodruff, 18, Moreland (Wayne County), when his car spun out of control on Ohio 302 near Wooster and overturned.

Fred Bukey, 80, Cleveland, in an apartment house fire in Cleveland.

Mrs. Lillian Wynn, 61, Brooklyn (Cleveland suburb), struck by a car near her home.

Saturday

John C. Miller, 30, New Pittsburg, when his car hit a bridge abutment on a county road near his Wayne County home.

Miss Martha Rose, 27, and James Herbert Lovett, 24, both of Eaton, when their car collided with a tractor-trailer truck on U.S. 40 5 miles east of the Ohio-Indiana line.

Michael Scroggins, 1, Cincinnati, of carbon monoxide poisoning in a parked car in Cincinnati.

Melvin Frails, 12, Sandusky, drowned when he fell through ice on Sandusky Bay where he was skating.

Mrs. Cora Mae Hill, 50, Rt. 2, Holgate, when she drove her car into the side of a Wabash Railroad freight engine at a crossing near Napoleon.

Walter Smith, 46, Nova, died several hours after an auto collision in Ashland.

Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. George Gillen, both about 54, in a fire in their Columbus home.

Alfonso Tate, 52, Middletown, struck by a car while he was crossing a Middletown street.

Oral Durbin, 49, of near Williamsburg, when his car went off U.S. 50 a mile east of nearby Owensville.

Baldwin-Wallace Gets $145,000 In Gifts

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gifts totaling $145,000 have been received by Baldwin-Wallace College in suburban Berea.

Dr. Alfred B. Bonds, college president, said Sunday members of the school's board of trustees donated $95,000 of that total and the remaining $50,000 was a separate gift from Dr. and Mrs. John F. Ernsthausen.

New 'Industry' Opens

'Sure' Seine Invented By City Men

By BYRON EELLS

Two city men believe they have the answer to one of the most perplexing problems facing a fisherman (outside of hooking a big one).

Ed Blatchford, 205 Baum St., and Charles E. McBride, 821 W. 9th St., are marketing a seine with a skirt designed to keep the minnows in the net.

And its success (as many as 500 minnows in one netting) have led the pair to apply for patents in both the United States and Canada as the Skirt Minnow Seine Manufacturing Co. of East Liverpool. The first Canadian papers already have been received.

BLATCHFORD and McBride assemble the seines in their plant on the second - floor of the Chester Die & Machine Co. plant on Church St. It consists of a steel frame and nylon mesh material.

But the secret of its ability to retain minnows is in the skirt along the sides. The two explained that minnows swim out of the sides of ordinary seines similar to upside down umbrellas or the homemade net and pole variety.

With the skirt seine, however, the minnow is trapped as it attempts to swim down and away.

BOTH POINTED out the fisherman no longer needs to wade after the mninows. The seine can be secured with a line and tossed out a short distance and then pulled back to shore. It also will serve as a minnow bucket if set in shallow water.

The seines are manufactured in two sizes — 19½ or 22½ inches diagonally. Blatchford and McBride purchase the nylon netting already formed to their specifications.

The seines are sold locally and also have been purchased by an auto accessory firm for distribution through its outlets. And they expect two large mail order houses to offer it in their next catalogs.

A fisherman most of his life, Blatchford conceived the idea while recuperating from a heart attack suffered while seining minnows in Longs Run.

—:—

REALIZING HE no longer could wade after minnows and the problem of trying to net them with the seines then on the market, he came up with the skirt idea.

Then employed at the former Ceramic Specialties Co. plant, he showed his idea to McBride, chief owner of the firm, who suggested he get a patent.

The first seines were circular with several pieces of nylon mesh which had to be stitched together and to the frame. Because it was too costly to produce, they abandoned it for the rectangular design.

The company was formed last March and located on the second floor of the building. The machine company is operated by McBride's son, Charles E. McBride Jr. and William Sevey.

Private Satellite Tracking Station Set For Tune In

CLEVELAND (AP) — A small group of industrial scientists and technicians who have spent hundreds of hours of their own time in the last four years developing a private satellite tracking station are ready to tune in on signals from the first American astronaut in orbit.

Using equipment they designed and put together themselves, the group has had considerable success pulling in signals from space. They have good records of the voice of Russian astronaut Yuri Gagarin and one from a U. S. capsule which broadcast taped transmissions while orbiting a chipanzee last Nov. 29.

Now they hope to add a recording of the voice of Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the U. S. Astronaut scheduled to ride a satellite on an orbital flight this week.

Dr. A. L. Jones, supervisor of basic research at the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, which has furnished the satellite trackers with laboratory space, believes the station's tapes of Gagarin's historic flight may be the best in existence. He said his opinion was confirmed by listening to a recording later released by Moscow for a television program seen in this country.

What pleases Dr. Jones as much as anything is the way the dozen members of the group, contributing talents in various fields, put together some highly specialized equipment at a fraction of what it would cost a government agency to buy the same equipment.

$1 Million Fire Hits Hotel In California

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)— A million-dollar fire destroyed the Barbara Worth Hotel, a 45-year-old Imperial Valley social center.

Two firemen were injured fighting flames which broke out Sunday in the basement of the five-story building. A hundred guests fled the hotel. None was injured. Four business offices also burned.

Stolen Car Stripped

LISBON — A 1960 convertible which had been reported stolen Thursday in Youngstown was found Friday noon by sheriff's deputies near the Unionville Rd., abandoned in a wheat field and stripped of four tires, two hubcaps, the battery and the engine air cleaner. Youngstown police said two autos were stolen from the same Mahoning Ave. address and a 1957 Chevrolet still is missing.

Mishap Hurts City Youth, 12

A 12-year-old city youth, injured while skating, was admitted Sunday afternoon to City Hospital, where eight area adults and youngsters were treated over the weekend.

Mitchell Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, 720 Price St., is in "fairly good" condition today with an injury of the left forearm suffered in a fall while skating.

Norma Lee Chambers, 13, daughter of Mrs. Wanda Chambers of Georgetown R. D. 1, received a possible fracture of the skull in a fall over a stone wall Sunday.

Becky Lynn Tams, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Tams of Chester R. D. 1, was treated yesterday for laceration of the forehead received in a fall against a desk at home.

Mrs. Ella Nye, 560 Ridgeway Ave., was treated Saturday night for a dislocated right shoulder recieved in a fall on ice.

Mrs. Helma Johnson, 507 Sugar St., suffered possible fractured ribs in a fall on steps Saturday.

While sled riding Saturday, Russell Burch, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burch, 910 Grant St., Newell, suffered a cut of an eyebrow and abrasions of a cheek.

Mrs. Catherine Duer, 1300 St Clair Ave., suffered a fractured left wrist in a fall on steps at home.

Harsha Attacks Postal Policy On Red Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William H. Harsha, R - Ohio, has branded a new Post Office Department policy concerning Communist propaganda mail "an effrontery to the American voter."

Harsha said the policy announced Saturday was designed to win a postal rate increase by placating congressional critics without really doing anything to halt the flow of Red propaganda from abroad.

Harsha, the 6th District representative from Portsmouth, noted a Post Office Department spokesman's comment that the United States sends more mail to Iron Curtain countries than it receives, and commented:

"It is tantamount to arguing that because we send out larger quantities of perfume we should continue to receive smaller quantities of poison gas."

The new policy is that anyone receiving unsolicited Communist mail can mark it "refused" and return it to the Post Office without charge.

Pickaway Countian To Run For Congress

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jerry C. Razor of Commercial Point (Pickaway County) says he will run for the Democratic nomination for the 6th Ohio District seat in the U.S. House of Representatives now held by William Harsha, a Republican from Portsmouth.

Rasor, a 1953 graduate of Ohio State University and now an announcer for WLW-C television, has never run for public office. The 6th District, covers Ross, Pike, Pickaway, Fayette, Scioto, Highland, Adams, Brown and Clermont counties.

Change In Draft Classifying Told

The Columbiana County Draft Board issued a statement today from Col. Raymond E. Clouse, state director of Selective Service, explaining a recent amendment to regulations which set up a classification of I-Y.

This new classification is designed to identify registrants who are found not qualified by the armed forces for military service under current physical, mental and moral standards, but who are considered to be qualified to serve in an emergency. Before this change, such men were placed in class IV-F. As it stands now, only men not qualified for any military service will be placed in IV-F.

The state director added that the current standards of physical, mental and moral acceptability are higher than those which the armed forces would use in an emergency. "One of our greatest problems in an emergency," he said, "will be the immediate identification of qualified and available men so that the mobilization of our manpower can be rapidly accomplished. This new classification permits us to currently identify this group of registrants day by day rather than having to screen all of our IV-F registrants after the emergency exists."

Ohio local boards have been earmarking these limited service men since September 1960, and will now be able to apply the new classification of 1-Y when appropriate to registrants who were physically examined after that date.

Pair Nabbed On Burglary

SALINEVILLE — A 20-year-old area man and a village youth, 17, were slated for hearings today at Carrolton on charges of breaking and entering the village water works office Friday.

Police Chief Cleo Mellott said Dennis Ray Beadnell, 20, of R.D. and a companion, 17, admitted the entering at the office and prying open a cabinet safe in the burglary which netted them nothing.

Mellott said a preliminary hearing was to be held for Beadnell by Carroll County authorities, while a Juvenile Court hearing was slated for the youth at Carrollton.

The water works office, located just inside the Carroll County line, was entered by the pair about 11:30 Friday night, accordingt o Mellott, who said they broke a window, then one climbed in and let the other in through a door.

Chief Mellott and Sheriff Dean Yeager worked together on the weekend investigation. Mellott said various clues indicated the pair was involved and he took them into custody for questioning Saturday.

He said they used a bar to pry open the office safe. Both are being held at the Carroll County jail.

Mellott said he and the sheriff discussed in which county the charges would be filed, pointing out the crime was committed on village property. The officers agreed to present the case to Carroll County authorities and Mellott would file the charges.

Before this change, such men were placed in class IV-F. As it stands now, only men not qualified for any military service will be placed in IV-F.

The state director added that the current standards of physical, mental and moral acceptability are higher than those which the armed forces would use in an emergency. "One of our greatest problems in an emergency," he said, "will be the immediate identification of qualified and available men so that the mobilization of our manpower can be rapidly accomplished. This new classification permits us to currently identify this group of registrants day by day rather than having to screen all of our IV-F registrants after the emergency exists."

Ohio local boards have been earmarking these limited service men since September 1960, and will now be able to apply the new classification of 1-Y when appropriate to registrants who were physically examined after that date.

12,000 Purchase Dog Tags Before Deadline

LISBON — Some four boxes of mail containing dog license applications were awaiting processing today, County Auditor Kenneth Bell reported, but 12,000 applications were filed with the tag office before Saturday's deadline.

Last year, over 16,000 dog licenses were issued. A $1 penalty now will be applied for applications issued after the deadline.

Pair Nabbed On Burglary

SALINEVILLE — A 20-year-old area man and a village youth, 17, were slated for hearings today at Carrolton on charges of breaking and entering the village water works office Friday.

Police Chief Cleo Mellott said Dennis Ray Beadnell, 20, of R.D. and a companion, 17, admitted the entering at the office and prying open a cabinet safe in the burglary which netted them nothing.

Mellott said a preliminary hearing was to be held for Beadnell by Carroll County authorities, while a Juvenile Court hearing was slated for the youth at Carrollton.

The water works office, located just inside the Carroll County line, was entered by the pair about 11:30 Friday night, accordingt o Mellott, who said they broke a window, then one climbed in and let the other in through a door.

Chief Mellott and Sheriff Dean Yeager worked together on the weekend investigation. Mellott said various clues indicated the pair was involved and he took them into custody for questioning Saturday.

He said they used a bar to pry open the office safe. Both are being held at the Carroll County jail.

Mellott said he and the sheriff discussed in which county the charges would be filed, pointing out the crime was committed on village property. The officers agreed to present the case to Carroll County authorities and Mellott would file the charges.

Local Resident Recalls Association With Glenn

Prayers and hopes of an East Liverpool man for a safe voyage for his college classmate will accompany Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. when the astronaut is blasted into his space journey this week at Cape Canaveral.

But Willis G. Gaston of Mayberry Ln., chief mechanical engineer at the Edwin M. Knowles China Co., has the "utmost confidence" in Glenn with whom he was enrolled in pilot training and as a student at Muskingum College.

Gaston met Glenn in 1939 when they were enrolled in the United Presbyterian college in the astronaut's home town. They became friends while members of the Stag Club and attending some of the same classes.

Both also were students in a civilian pilot training course at New Philadelphia where the astronaut and Gaston received their initial training and earned single engine pilot licenses.

Gaston is not surprised at Glenn's success in his chosen career. "He would have been successful in any undertaking."

Recalling his association with Glenn, Gaston remembers that Glenn's character was excellent. Respected by his fellow students, Glenn had control of his emotions no matter what he was doing.

"He had an analytical mind that was unswayed by external pressures and opinions. And the courage of his convictions."

Although he has met and talked with Glenn's wife, also a native of New Concord, Gaston hasn't seen the astronaut since they left the campus in the spring of 1942—Glenn to enter the Marines and Gaston to continue his studies at Purdue University and enter the Air Force.

"HE WOULD HAVE BEEN successful in any undertaking." So commented Willis G. Gaston of Mayberry Ln. about Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., a college classmate of his at Muskingum.

If Glenn's successful in becoming the first American to orbit into space, it won't change his character, Gaston declared. "He's solid; he's not the type to be affected."

Glenn

asked at the time of his record cross-country flight if he wasn't scared to be way up there flying at such tremendous speed, he replied:

"No, if you really want to get a thrill, try driving from Washington to New Concord on a Saturday night!"

AND WHAT do the Glenns personally feel about their son's fame and the changes it has brought into their lives?

"We enjoy it," they said, "just as you would enjoy it if your kids did something."

They're anticipating scurrying around between two TV sets and switching the antenna rotor between Wheeling and Steubenville stations in one direction and the three Columbus stations in the other.

They plan to be alone in their home at the time of the launch while Dr. and Mrs. Homer Castor will be at the side of their daughter in her Arlington (Va.) home.

THE SENIOR GLENNS will go to the college gymnasium following the launch. There the major TV networks are set up to carry programs from New Concord during the 4½-hour orbital flight.

As we waited with the Glenns recently in their neat living room here, it was hard to visualize the room filled with cables, cords, lights, floodlamps and wires everywhere, as well as with cameramen, engineers and technicians.

But they assured us it had been—when ABC did a program on John's home town and again when NBC did the same.

ARE THEY WORRIED about the impending flight of their astronaut son? If they are, it isn't obvious. Perhaps it's because they know so much about the entire Mercury project.

We were impressed by their keen interest in the various aspects of the project as manifested, for example, by Mrs. Glenn's interest in showing our teen-age sons the pictures she has on the many phases of the program and explaining them as well.

Yes, it was a memorable Sunday afternoon we spent in New Concord as guests, graciously entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Castor and Mr. and Mrs. John Glenn Sr.

Are their children worthy of the adulation of the youth of this world?

We think so. We believe America can be very proud of them.

-:-

P.S.: As we were leaving the Glenns' home at the conclusion of our homey visit, once again it was difficult to realize we actually were in the home of the parents of the man the entire world soon will be watching.

Then the telephone rang. It was New York City.

CBS was on the line, requesting permission to send a crew to film the Glenns the next day.

We all chuckled and Mrs. Glenn said:

"Well, that's all three of them now!"

Italy Protests To Bulgaria On Jet Flight

BARI, Italy (AP)—Italy strongly protested to Bulgaria the flight of a Communist supersonic jet carrying high-powered cameras over a secret Allied missile base near Bari, and Italian newspapers today raised the cry: "a new U2?"

The young Bulgarian air force pilot, dragged in tears from his wrecked plane, asked not to be turned over to Bulgarian consular officials, implying he was making a break for freedom.

Counter-intelligence agents were skeptical of his story and studied exposed film found in the Soviet-built MIG19. Officials pointed out that if he was defecting, he passed up several chances to land at Italian air fields before his plane crashed.

The armed fighter made two low-level passes over the missile base at Gioia del Colle—a new, closely guarded NATO installation—before slamming to the ground in a field Saturday only 2,000 yards from the base.

The Bulgarian consulate in a statement said the pilot, 2nd Lt. Milusc Solakov, 22, lost his way on a training flight in fog. It demanded the return of Solakov and the plane. The crash was 400 miles from his base in central Bulgaria.

Premier Amintore Fanfani conferred at length with Foreign Minister Antonio Segni Sunday and then sent a protest to the Bulgarian minister in Rome, Constantin Micev, charging violation of Italian air space.

The young pilot, who suffered only a fractured left arm and scalp wound, was held under heavy guard in a hospital at Acquaviva, a small town 16 miles south of Bari.

Italian newspapers compared Sokalov to American spy pilot Francis Gary Powers whose U2 plane was downed over the Soviet Union in May 1960. That brought an international uproar which Premier Khrushchev used to wreck the Paris summit conference later.

Powers was sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment on spy charges by a Soviet court, and one Rome newspaper urged today that the Italian government be just as severe with Solakov.

Like Powers, Solakov was flying a high-altitude reconnaissance plane loaded with elaborate photo equipment.

Military sources said the missile base's radar picked up a flight of Bulgarian planes—four to eight—swinging in over Italy from across the Adriatic at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Solakov was tracked as he peeled off from the rest and then flashed low—possibly attempting to elude the radarscope—over the Italian countryside.

Existence of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization missile base at Gioia del Colle was barely known outside military circles and newspapers have carried no details about the installation.

Reservations Accepted For Dinner In Florida

Reservations still are being accepted for the annual East Liverpool - Wellsville "community dinner" for former residents and visitors in Florida.

The event will take place Wednesday, Feb. 7, at 6 p. m. in the International Club at St. Petersburg.

Mrs. Ray Bolon, 11390 116th Ave., North, Largo, Fla., is in charge of reservations.

Church Heads Seated

LISBON — An ordination and installation service was conducted Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Paul T. Gerrard. George Gonzales was ordained as ruling elder and Richard Kennedy, George L. Lafferty and Clarence L. Robinson were installed as elders. Mrs. Helen Pilmer was ordained as a deacon, Durelle McCamon was installed as a deacon and H. Dean Boyd and Frank McKarnes were given recognition as trustees.

about the stars or the land masses or cloud conditions or other factors that could be of value to scientific knowledge."

Along with intensive physical examinations in the last two days, Lt. Col. Glenn, Marine Corps, will be interviewed by a psychiatrist and put through a battery of psychological tests to evaluate his emotional level before takeoff into space.

Most of the tests are simple, the kind a job applicant might have to take in the personnel office of any progressive industry.

On the last Sunday before his scheduled shot, Glenn gave little indication of tension. He attended the Riverside Presbyterian church in Cocoa Beach, prayed, joined the hymn-singing in a sturdy tenor, signed autographs for Sunday School kids and generally acted like a man who wasn't going any place more dangerous than a desk in a business office.

Clarkson Pastor Will Leave Post To Push Studies

William McIntyre of Pittsburgh, student pastor at the Clarkson United Presbyterian Church, announced Sunday he will be unable to continue to serve the church for the remainder of the year, as planned.

McIntyre, student at the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, reported at the annual congregational meetings yesterday he plans to rearrange his study program.

Supply ministers will serve the church, it was announced.

Mrs. Evelyn Hauserman, Mrs. Evelyn Todd and Mrs. Shirley Hole, flower committee, and Mrs. Edith Welce, Mrs. Marie George, Mrs. Verna Swaney and Mrs. Otis Gibson, nominating committee.

Reports were heard and the budget was approved. The Rev. Oscar T. Persons of Youngstown served as moderator.

Hoffa Bid Due To Sway Bakery Workers Union

CLEVELAND (AP) — The convention of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union (B&C) is shaping up as primarily a tug-of-war between Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa and a faction of the B&C that wants to affiliate with an AFL-CIO union.

Hoffa makes his bid today to delegates of the 66,500-member union, which he wants to become a division of the Teamsters Union.

Hoffa, who delivers the main speech at the opening of the international convention of the B&C, said Sunday night he already has a good idea who the delegates will vote for, but "I am not saying at the present."

If the delegates do not vote for the Teamsters, "there very conceivably will be some who will leave" the B&C and join his union, Hoffa said.

He characterized as propaganda the statements put out by the B&C's Local Union Reunification Committee (LURC), an anti-administration group which opposes affiliation with the Teamsters. LURC favors affiliation with the American Bakery and Confectionery Workers International (ABC), an AFL-CIO affiliate.

The ABC was formed after the

Congregation Clears 1962 Church Budget

Four trustees were elected and a budget of $80,000 was approved at the annual corporation meeting of the congregation of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Sunday morning.

James A. Locke Jr., president of the congregation, presided.

The trustees will be recognized at the ordination and installation service Sunday morning.

Beaver Plans Another Quiz In Girl's Case

A 29-year-old part-time salesman who confessed Sunday to the murder of a 13-year-old girl in Columbia County (Pa.) last July will be questioned again in connection with the disappearance and presumed murder of Becky Ann Triska of Baden, who vanished Sept. 19, 1958, Beaver County District Atty. Richard P. Steward said today.

He is Frank Earl Senk of Centralia, who was the prime suspect in the Triska girl's disappearance, but never was tried in connection with it. The girl, then 15, disappeared while on her way from her home in Baden to a dance in Ambridge. Her body never has been found.

As an aftermath of the Triska investigation, Senk was sentenced to prison terms on two morals cases, one in Beaver County and another in Florida.

The Beaver County district attorney said he will make a request to State Police for an opportunity to question Senk about the Triska girl. He said he will make the request as soon as he is notified officially of the Columbia County confession.

Col. Frank McCartney, Pennsylvania State Police commissioner, made an announcement at Harrisburg that Senk has admitted killing Jane Blenfield of Centralia. The Blenfield girl's body was found last July 12 in a desolate part of the Columbia County coal region.

Col. McCartney said Senk was arrested Thursday night in the small community of Russell, Warren County. Senk is scheduled to be arraigned on a murder charge Tuesday.

He was arrested in connection with the 1958 disappearance of the Triska girl largely because police found strands of reddish hair in his auto and a laboratory test showed they were similar to strands found in the missing girl's hair brush.

He was held on a charge of suspicion of a felony and then was charged with committing a morals offense with a 19-year-old girl. He was convicted Dec. 16, 1958.

The following June, he was placed on probation for five years by Judge Morgan Sohn, who pointed out Senk already had spent eight months in jail on various charges.

Then he was taken to Florida for violation of parole and another morals charge. He returned to Pennsylvania in 1960.

Col. McCartney said Senk had rented a home in Centralia last July. He also had lived in Williamsport and other Pennsylvania communities and had been employed at times as a magazine salesman, Col. McCartney said.

Sergeant Re-enlists

PUGHTOWN — M-Sgt. Linsly G. Criswell, 39, son of Mrs. Hazel L. Criswell, has re-enlisted for three years in the Army while serving as an operations sergeant in the 56th Medical Battalion's Headquarters Deteachment in Karlsruhe, Germany. He attended Weir High School before entering the Army in 1940. He was stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., before arriving overseas in September 1959. His wife, Lessie, is with him in Germany.

House Group Studies Coal Pipeline Bill

CHARLESTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee scrutinized West Virginia's controversial coal pipeline project for the third time today.

The hard look took place during a committee meeting following the House session which began at noon. The Senate reconvened an hour later following the weekend layoff.

First of the three study periods occurred last Thursday night when both sides of the issue aired their opinions during a public session conducted by the Senate and House Judiciary committees. The House held another session Friday night and today marked the third time witnesses were called to answer questions.

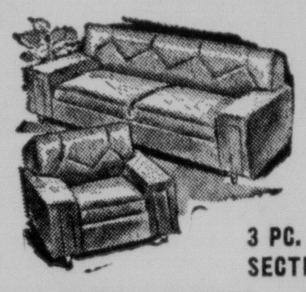

Gov. Barron has endorsed the proposed bills that would give the coal companies the right of eminent domain or simply the right to seek right of way condemnation proceedings in court.

The end result would be a pipeline stretching from the state's coal fields to the east coast that would transport a mixture of coal and water commonly called "slurry."

Military sources said the missile base's radar picked up a flight of Bulgarian planes—four to eight—swinging in over Italy from across the Adriatic at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Solakov was tracked as he peeled off from the rest and then flashed low—possibly attempting to elude the radarscope—over the Italian countryside.

Existence of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization missile base at Gioia del Colle was barely known outside military circles and newspapers have carried no details about the installation.

Reservations Accepted For Dinner In Florida

Reservations still are being accepted for the annual East Liverpool - Wellsville "community dinner" for former residents and visitors in Florida.

The event will take place Wednesday, Feb. 7, at 6 p. m. in the International Club at St. Petersburg.

Mrs. Ray Bolon, 11390 116th Ave., North, Largo, Fla., is in charge of reservations.

Church Heads Seated

LISBON — An ordination and installation service was conducted Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Paul T. Gerrard. George Gonzales was ordained as ruling elder and Richard Kennedy, George L. Lafferty and Clarence L. Robinson were installed as elders. Mrs. Helen Pilmer was ordained as a deacon, Durelle McCamon was installed as a deacon and H. Dean Boyd and Frank McKarnes were given recognition as trustees.

Council Sets Session

LISBON — Village Council will meet tonight at 7:30. Mayor Dean Stockman said routine business is planned.

about the stars or the land masses or cloud conditions or other factors that could be of value to scientific knowledge."

Along with intensive physical examinations in the last two days, Lt. Col. Glenn, Marine Corps, will be interviewed by a psychiatrist and put through a battery of psychological tests to evaluate his emotional level before takeoff into space.

Most of the tests are simple, the kind a job applicant might have to take in the personnel office of any progressive industry.

On the last Sunday before his scheduled shot, Glenn gave little indication of tension. He attended the Riverside Presbyterian church in Cocoa Beach, prayed, joined the hymn-singing in a sturdy tenor, signed autographs for Sunday School kids and generally acted like a man who wasn't going any place more dangerous than a desk in a business office.

Clarkson Pastor Will Leave Post To Push Studies

William McIntyre of Pittsburgh, student pastor at the Clarkson United Presbyterian Church, announced Sunday he will be unable to continue to serve the church for the remainder of the year, as planned.

McIntyre, student at the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, reported at the annual congregational meetings yesterday he plans to rearrange his study program.

Supply ministers will serve the church, it was announced.

Mrs. Evelyn Hauserman, Mrs. Evelyn Todd and Mrs. Shirley Hole, flower committee, and Mrs. Edith Welce, Mrs. Marie George, Mrs. Verna Swaney and Mrs. Otis Gibson, nominating committee.

Reports were heard and the budget was approved. The Rev. Oscar T. Persons of Youngstown served as moderator.

Hoffa Bid Due To Sway Bakery Workers Union

CLEVELAND (AP) — The convention of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union (B&C) is shaping up as primarily a tug-of-war between Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa and a faction of the B&C that wants to affiliate with an AFL-CIO union.

Hoffa makes his bid today to delegates of the 66,500-member union, which he wants to become a division of the Teamsters Union.

Hoffa, who delivers the main speech at the opening of the international convention of the B&C, said Sunday night he already has a good idea who the delegates will vote for, but "I am not saying at the present."

If the delegates do not vote for the Teamsters, "there very conceivably will be some who will leave" the B&C and join his union, Hoffa said.

He characterized as propaganda the statements put out by the B&C's Local Union Reunification Committee (LURC), an anti-administration group which opposes affiliation with the Teamsters. LURC favors affiliation with the American Bakery and Confectionery Workers International (ABC), an AFL-CIO affiliate.

The ABC was formed after the

Congregation Clears 1962 Church Budget

Four trustees were elected and a budget of $80,000 was approved at the annual corporation meeting of the congregation of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Sunday morning.

James A. Locke Jr., president of the congregation, presided.

Beaver Plans Another Quiz In Girl's Case

A 29-year-old part-time salesman who confessed Sunday to the murder of a 13-year-old girl in Columbia County (Pa.) last July will be questioned again in connection with the disappearance and presumed murder of Becky Ann Triska of Baden, who vanished Sept. 19, 1958, Beaver County District Atty. Richard P. Steward said today.

He is Frank Earl Senk of Centralia, who was the prime suspect in the Triska girl's disappearance, but never was tried in connection with it. The girl, then 15, disappeared while on her way from her home in Baden to a dance in Ambridge. Her body never has been found.

As an aftermath of the Triska investigation, Senk was sentenced to prison terms on two morals cases, one in Beaver County and another in Florida.

The Beaver County district attorney said he will make a request to State Police for an opportunity to question Senk about the Triska girl. He said he will make the request as soon as he is notified officially of the Columbia County confession.

Col. Frank McCartney, Pennsylvania State Police commissioner, made an announcement at Harrisburg that Senk has admitted killing Jane Blenfield of Centralia. The Blenfield girl's body was found last July 12 in a desolate part of the Columbia County coal region.

Col. McCartney said Senk was arrested Thursday night in the small community of Russell, Warren County. Senk is scheduled to be arraigned on a murder charge Tuesday.

He was arrested in connection with the 1958 disappearance of the Triska girl largely because police found strands of reddish hair in his auto and a laboratory test showed they were similar to strands found in the missing girl's hair brush.

He was held on a charge of suspicion of a felony and then was charged with committing a morals offense with a 19-year-old girl. He was convicted Dec. 16, 1958.

The following June, he was placed on probation for five years by Judge Morgan Sohn, who pointed out Senk already had spent eight months in jail on various charges.

Then he was taken to Florida for violation of parole and another morals charge. He returned to Pennsylvania in 1960.

Col. McCartney said Senk had rented a home in Centralia last July. He also had lived in Williamsport and other Pennsylvania communities and had been employed at times as a magazine salesman, Col. McCartney said.

Sergeant Re-enlists

PUGHTOWN — M-Sgt. Linsly G. Criswell, 39, son of Mrs. Hazel L. Criswell, has re-enlisted for three years in the Army while serving as an operations sergeant in the 56th Medical Battalion's Headquarters Deteachment in Karlsruhe, Germany. He attended Weir High School before entering the Army in 1940. He was stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., before arriving overseas in September 1959. His wife, Lessie, is with him in Germany.

House Group Studies Coal Pipeline Bill

CHARLESTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee scrutinized West Virginia's controversial coal pipeline project for the third time today.

The hard look took place during a committee meeting following the House session which began at noon. The Senate reconvened an hour later following the weekend layoff.

First of the three study periods occurred last Thursday night when both sides of the issue aired their opinions during a public session conducted by the Senate and House Judiciary committees. The House held another session Friday night and today marked the third time witnesses were called to answer questions.

Gov. Barron has endorsed the proposed bills that would give the coal companies the right of eminent domain or simply the right to seek right of way condemnation proceedings in court.

The end result would be a pipeline stretching from the state's coal fields to the east coast that would transport a mixture of coal and water commonly called "slurry."

Engineers Map Election Plans

CINCINNATI (AP) — A meeting of several hundred members of Local 18, International Union of Operating Engineers, was held Sunday in suburban Evendale.

No details of the meeting were announced. The union members reportedly discussed procedures for an election in June in which the present union leaders will face serious opposition for the first time in years.

Prior to the meeting, several members protested to U.S. Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg that the meeting place was changed from Columbus to Evendale in an effort to cut down on attendance. The dissidents declared most of the local's members live in Northern Ohio.

F. D. McComas of Springfield, one of the members who had protested to Goldberg, said Sunday night the meeting was conducted satisfactorily.

McComas said his group will meet Feb. 4 in Springfield to pick a slate of five nominees to oppose candidates backed by President John Possehl and Frank Converse, head of the local's executive board.

Officials of the local could not be reached for comment.

U.S., Latins Eye Move To Check Castro

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Western Hemisphere foreign ministers ceremonially open their conference on Cuban communism today and then shift into informal private sessions to discuss family disputes imperiling inter-American unity.

The word for the conference sponsored by the Organization of American States was not yet "gloomy," but there was fear the meeting would flounder in bickering over how or whether to punish Fidel Castro's Cuban regime.

The conferees agreed to delay their first plenary session until Tuesday to afford more time for backstage bargaining. The delay was regarded by some here as evidence of some nations' reluctance to take a strong line against the Cuban regime.

The U.S. delegation chief, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, declared in a public statement that there was a need for "security from extracontinental intervention" if the ambitious $20-billion Alliance for Progress program is to get on the road. This was implicit warning that the alliance needs freedom from Castro-Communist pressures if it is going to bring to fruition hopes for an economic upsurge to counter the yeasty extremist ferment in Latin America.

Rep. Armistead Selden, Alabama Democrat and chairman of the House Inter-American Affairs Committee, told newsmen that unless the foreign ministers take strong action against Cuba that, "things could be disagreeable in Congress" when the Alliance for Progress appropriation comes up.

Other authoritative U.S. sources said there probably would be a big cut by Congress in the $3 billion Kennedy earmarked for the program because of the alarm over Cuba among U.S. voters.

The OAS foreign ministers have several possible actions to choose from.

First they must decide whether Cuban communism is a threat to "the peace and political independence" of the Americas. If so, they must decide what they will do about it.

They can by a two-thirds vote collectively break off diplomatic relations with Cuba, or impose economic sanctions, or both. This would require affirmative votes by 14 of the 21 nations. Thirteen, including the United States, already have broken relations with Cuba, and could be counted on to back collective action.

Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Ecuador, Mexico and Uruguay still maintain diplomatic ties with Cuba. One of these seven will have to be won over or the move for sanctions will fail.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Should Care For Furniture

Some parents of young children aim not to bother about polished or stuffed chairs or other neat furniture. They plan to replace these furnishings as the children get older. There must be an optimal place somewhere between being jittery over furniture being marred or scarred and assuming that small youngsters should not be curbed in relation to these things. At one extreme, the parents may not be concerned if youngsters with shoes on climb up and stand on the piano or on polished chairs or tables. At the other extreme, they may even try to keep the tot from touching these things with his bare hands.

IT'S FINE, OF course, to have a play room with ample space for running and only a small amount of sturdy, unpolished, unstuffed furniture. But this is not possible in many homes.

Begin with a child early and teach him to be careful of things about the home. As soon as he can creep or toddle, teach him that there are a few dangerous things he must not have or touch. Be sure he gets an immediate smack of his hands or bare thigh if he disobeys.

Later, train him to keep away from one or two things he can harm. However, having taught him effectively to avoid a few things dangerous to him, a quiet "NO" may suffice to keep him from the few things he can harm. Be sure there are a number of things he may touch or handle freely, or with your supervision and quiet suggestions.

CURB CLIMBING upon chairs and standing on them. Strictly forbid jumping up and down on stuffed furniture or a bed. Follow each violation with a sharp slap on his bare thigh. Such jumping not only is hazardous to the furniture but perilous for him.

Patiently show him how to get into a stuffed chair or onto the davenport, and to sit either with his feet hanging over or his shoes off.

When you see your two to four-year child with a nail or other metal object, you know he might be tempted to scratch polished furniture. See that this destructive object is removed to a proper place. Thus you can prevent possible harm to furnishings and avoid rebuking or punishing the tot.

When playmates come to your home, don't let these youngsters romp and play games of chase in your living room. Reading to them seomtimes will quiet them.

WHEN A CHILD plays with a metal toy in the living room, spend time and patience showing him how to operate it without marring the furniture. Be generous with praise as he develops ways of being careful of the house furnishings.

My bulletins "How to Teach Child Meaning of No", "Teaching Child Care of Property" and "Celebrate Your Child's Successes" may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Sunnyside Area Inspected Again

A second inspection of the Sunnyside area, where residents have complained of inadequate access, lack of streetlights and a need for better sidewalks, was made Saturday by Safety - Service Director Robert Owen and the Council street committee.

The same officials made the first inspection Thursday, following complaints given to Council Monday night by a large delegation of Sunnyside residents. The street committee is comprised of Councilmen Kenneth Berg, S. James Welch and Floyd Murray.

The officials met with a Sunnyside citizens' committee headed by James H. Grafton. Grafton said the officials indicated an embankment on Lisbon St. at a traffic ramp will be graded down to allow a better view for motorists driving onto the thoroughfare from the ramp.

Portsmouth A-Plant In Union Organization

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Members of the International Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union at the Portsmouth gaseous diffusion plant now are under a union organization.

At the closing session of a union convention here Sunday, it was announced that districts 9 and 10 have been merged into a new District 3. The merger covers 10 states. The new district will have about 20,000 members.

Bill Workman of Ashland, Ky., was elected president of the new district. Other officers include Wade Cremeans of Huntington, W. Va., financial secretary and Harold Sanford of Portsmouth, recording secretary.

Jury Convicts Cickelli On 2 Bribe Counts

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Having secured a conviction of Trumbull County Democratic Chairman Frank A. Cickelli, the prosecutor is making plans for the trial of another of the seven persons indicted last fall in connection with Warren's sewer project scandal.

Cickelli was convicted Sunday on two counts, but the jury of six men and six women found him innocent on two other counts. The 51-year-old Cickelli, who has been Democratic chairman for 15 years and a member of the election board for more than eight years, was found guilty of aiding and abetting Raymond J. Little, former Warren city councilman, in soliciting a $35,000 bribe from two contractors on the $4.5 million sewer project.

The second charge on which he was convicted was that he acted in conspiracy with Paul LaMonge of Niles in accepting $10,000 from the contractors under false pretenses by representing himself as acting for former Mayor Walter Pestrak. Pestrak has not been linked by county officials with the scandals, and he testified during the five-day trial last week to deny any knowledge of the demand allegedly made in his name.

The jury, which deliberated more than 16 hours Saturday and Sunday before returning a verdict, found Cickelli innocent of counts of conspiring with LaMong to extort $200,000 from two construction company officials by threats.

Each of the charges on which Cickelli was convicted carries a sentence of 1-10 years in Ohio Penitentiary. Common Pleas Court Judge G. H. Birrell delayed sentencing and continued the $10,000 bond under which Cickelli has been free pending an appeal.

Cickelli's counsel indicated a motion will be filed for a new trial.

Meanwhile, Prosecutor Lynn B. Griffith Jr. indicated LaMonge will be tried next, although no date for a trial has been set.

Little and two other former Democratic members of Council are in Ohio Penitentiary serving 1-10 year terms for bribery. Still to be tried, along with LaMonge, are James Soda, president of the Soda-Luscher Construction Co. of Niles, and James Matash of Warren, a professional bondsman.

Tax Data Shows Car Sales Climb

Columbiana County started 1962 with a big boom in auto sales, based on sales tax collection figures, State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson reported today at Columbus.

Sales taxes collected on auto sales in Columbiana County hit $8,544 in the week ending Jan. 6, up $3,140 from the $5,404 shown in the comparable week of 1961. The collections stand at $255,562 since the start of the current fiscal year last July 1, down $9,346 from the $264,908 shown in the same period of the preceding fiscal year.

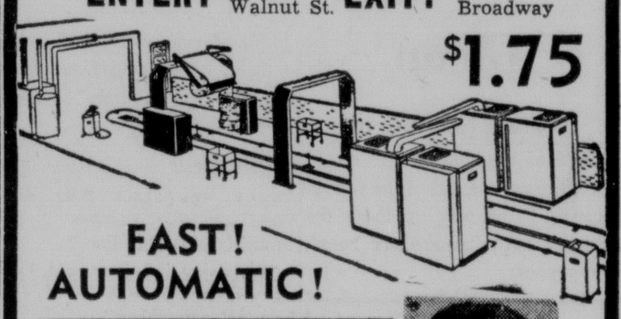

Collection of sales taxes on other items in Columbiana County totaled $42,916 in the week ending Dec. 30, down $43,062 from the $85,978 shown in the comparable week of 1961. Since the fiscal year started July 1, the source has produced $633,258, down $106,391 from the $739,649 shown in the same time during the previous fiscal year.

Engineers Map Election Plans

CINCINNATI (AP) — A meeting of several hundred members of Local 18, International Union of Operating Engineers, was held Sunday in suburban Evendale.

No details of the meeting were announced. The union members reportedly discussed procedures for an election in June in which the present union leaders will face serious opposition for the first time in years.

Prior to the meeting, several members protested to U.S. Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg that the meeting place was changed from Columbus to Evendale in an effort to cut down on attendance. The dissidents declared most of the local's members live in Northern Ohio.

F. D. McComas of Springfield, one of the members who had protested to Goldberg, said Sunday night the meeting was conducted satisfactorily.

McComas said his group will meet Feb. 4 in Springfield to pick a slate of five nominees to oppose candidates backed by President John Possehl and Frank Converse, head of the local's executive board.

Officials of the local could not be reached for comment.

U.S., Latins Eye Move To Check Castro

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Western Hemisphere foreign ministers ceremonially open their conference on Cuban communism today and then shift into informal private sessions to discuss family disputes imperiling inter-American unity.

The word for the conference sponsored by the Organization of American States was not yet "gloomy," but there was fear the meeting would flounder in bickering over how or whether to punish Fidel Castro's Cuban regime.

The conferees agreed to delay their first plenary session until Tuesday to afford more time for backstage bargaining. The delay was regarded by some here as evidence of some nations' reluctance to take a strong line against the Cuban regime.

The U.S. delegation chief, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, declared in a public statement that there was a need for "security from extracontinental intervention" if the ambitious $20-billion Alliance for Progress program is to get on the road. This was implicit warning that the alliance needs freedom from Castro-Communist pressures if it is going to bring to fruition hopes for an economic upsurge to counter the yeasty extremist ferment in Latin America.

Rep. Armistead Selden, Alabama Democrat and chairman of the House Inter-American Affairs Committee, told newsmen that unless the foreign ministers take strong action against Cuba that, "things could be disagreeable in Congress" when the Alliance for Progress appropriation comes up.

Other authoritative U.S. sources said there probably would be a big cut by Congress in the $3 billion Kennedy earmarked for the program because of the alarm over Cuba among U.S. voters.

The OAS foreign ministers have several possible actions to choose from.

First they must decide whether Cuban communism is a threat to "the peace and political independence" of the Americas. If so, they must decide what they will do about it.

They can by a two-thirds vote collectively break off diplomatic relations with Cuba, or impose economic sanctions, or both. This would require affirmative votes by 14 of the 21 nations. Thirteen, including the United States, already have broken relations with Cuba, and could be counted on to back collective action.

Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Ecuador, Mexico and Uruguay still maintain diplomatic ties with Cuba. One of these seven will have to be won over or the move for sanctions will fail.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Should Care For Furniture

Some parents of young children aim not to bother about polished or stuffed chairs or other neat furniture. They plan to replace these furnishings as the children get older. There must be an optimal place somewhere between being jittery over furniture being marred or scarred and assuming that small youngsters should not be curbed in relation to these things. At one extreme, the parents may not be concerned if youngsters with shoes on climb up and stand on the piano or on polished chairs or tables. At the other extreme, they may even try to keep the tot from touching these things with his bare hands.

IT'S FINE, OF course, to have a play room with ample space for running and only a small amount of sturdy, unpolished, unstuffed furniture. But this is not possible in many homes.

Begin with a child early and teach him to be careful of things about the home. As soon as he can creep or toddle, teach him that there are a few dangerous things he must not have or touch. Be sure he gets an immediate smack of his hands or bare thigh if he disobeys.

Later, train him to keep away from one or two things he can harm. However, having taught him effectively to avoid a few things dangerous to him, a quiet "NO" may suffice to keep him from the few things he can harm. Be sure there are a number of things he may touch or handle freely, or with your supervision and quiet suggestions.

CURB CLIMBING upon chairs and standing on them. Strictly forbid jumping up and down on stuffed furniture or a bed. Follow each violation with a sharp slap on his bare thigh. Such jumping not only is hazardous to the furniture but perilous for him.

Patiently show him how to get into a stuffed chair or onto the davenport, and to sit either with his feet hanging over or his shoes off.

When you see your two to four-year child with a nail or other metal object, you know he might be tempted to scratch polished furniture. See that this destructive object is removed to a proper place. Thus you can prevent possible harm to furnishings and avoid rebuking or punishing the tot.

When playmates come to your home, don't let these youngsters romp and play games of chase in your living room. Reading to them seomtimes will quiet them.

WHEN A CHILD plays with a metal toy in the living room, spend time and patience showing him how to operate it without marring the furniture. Be generous with praise as he develops ways of being careful of the house furnishings.

My bulletins "How to Teach Child Meaning of No", "Teaching Child Care of Property" and "Celebrate Your Child's Successes" may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Sunnyside Area Inspected Again

A second inspection of the Sunnyside area, where residents have complained of inadequate access, lack of streetlights and a need for better sidewalks, was made Saturday by Safety - Service Director Robert Owen and the Council street committee.

The same officials made the first inspection Thursday, following complaints given to Council Monday night by a large delegation of Sunnyside residents. The street committee is comprised of Councilmen Kenneth Berg, S. James Welch and Floyd Murray.

The officials met with a Sunnyside citizens' committee headed by James H. Grafton. Grafton said the officials indicated an embankment on Lisbon St. at a traffic ramp will be graded down to allow a better view for motorists driving onto the thoroughfare from the ramp.

Portsmouth A-Plant In Union Organization

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Members of the International Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union at the Portsmouth gaseous diffusion plant now are under a union organization.

At the closing session of a union convention here Sunday, it was announced that districts 9 and 10 have been merged into a new District 3. The merger covers 10 states. The new district will have about 20,000 members.

Bill Workman of Ashland, Ky., was elected president of the new district. Other officers include Wade Cremeans of Huntington, W. Va., financial secretary and Harold Sanford of Portsmouth, recording secretary.

Jury Convicts Cickelli On 2 Bribe Counts

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Having secured a conviction of Trumbull County Democratic Chairman Frank A. Cickelli, the prosecutor is making plans for the trial of another of the seven persons indicted last fall in connection with Warren's sewer project scandal.

Cickelli was convicted Sunday on two counts, but the jury of six men and six women found him innocent on two other counts. The 51-year-old Cickelli, who has been Democratic chairman for 15 years and a member of the election board for more than eight years, was found guilty of aiding and abetting Raymond J. Little, former Warren city councilman, in soliciting a $35,000 bribe from two contractors on the $4.5 million sewer project.

The second charge on which he was convicted was that he acted in conspiracy with Paul LaMonge of Niles in accepting $10,000 from the contractors under false pretenses by representing himself as acting for former Mayor Walter Pestrak. Pestrak has not been linked by county officials with the scandals, and he testified during the five-day trial last week to deny any knowledge of the demand allegedly made in his name.

The jury, which deliberated more than 16 hours Saturday and Sunday before returning a verdict, found Cickelli innocent of counts of conspiring with LaMong to extort $200,000 from two construction company officials by threats.

Each of the charges on which Cickelli was convicted carries a sentence of 1-10 years in Ohio Penitentiary. Common Pleas Court Judge G. H. Birrell delayed sentencing and continued the $10,000 bond under which Cickelli has been free pending an appeal.

Cickelli's counsel indicated a motion will be filed for a new trial.

Meanwhile, Prosecutor Lynn B. Griffith Jr. indicated LaMonge will be tried next, although no date for a trial has been set.

Little and two other former Democratic members of Council are in Ohio Penitentiary serving 1-10 year terms for bribery. Still to be tried, along with LaMonge, are James Soda, president of the Soda-Luscher Construction Co. of Niles, and James Matash of Warren, a professional bondsman.

Marks End Of Era

Farewell Dinner Held By Local 12

The close of an old era and the opening of a new frontier for five local unions in the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters was marked Saturday night at a banquet and program at the Travelers Hotel.

Members of Local Union 12, jiggermen, with a history that dates back to Nov. 25, 1896, held the farewell dinner to mark impending consolidation with four others —Local 4, casters; Local 10, handlers and turners; Local 22, mouldmakers, and Local 29, dish jiggermen.

THE LOCALS already have approved a voluntary amalgamation plan under which they all will become part of a new branch, Local 320. At a meeting on Feb. 3, the old locals will surrender their charters and receive a new one for Local 320.

The huge red and gold banner of Local 12, dating back to the early days of the organization, was hung on the wall as a backdrop for the program. In the days of huge community parades, the jiggermen marched proudly behind the banner of their local.

Cyril Plant turned over the banner to E. L. Wheatley, international president, to be displayed with other symbols of the pottery union's history in the IBOP's new headquarters on Route 7.

A CROWD of 50 heard an address by Wheatley, in which he referred to the local as one of the most outstanding in the Brotherhood chain.

The president pointed out the merger of the five locals is one of a series of such voluntary moves in which eventually the 22 local unions in the dinnerware plants in the East Liverpool area may be combined into three or four large unions.

He emphasized that the merger was a voluntary decision on the part of members of the five locals.

"The membership of this local has been outstanding in the affairs of the international," Wheatley said. "Many active members have come from this trade."

HE POINTED out that Al Hughes, first president of the Brotherhood, was a member of the jiggermen's local and that two later presidents — Tom Duffy and Ed Menge — also were from the ranks of Local 12.

"The old-timers like Al Harrison, Joseph Chadwick, the Finleys, the Graftons, the Plants and the Digmans have been active in conferences and conventions over the years," the president said. "The jiggermen have always played an outstanding part."

Also representing the international were Secretary - Treasurer Charles F. Jordan, Frank Dales, sixth vice president; Clyde Jones of Alliance, eighth vice president, and Lester Null, international organizer. Each spoke briefly.

It was a "farewell banquet" for the members of Local 12, as its last meeting was held Saturday morning.

JAMES H. GRAFTON was chairman of the committee on arrangements, which also included Plant, Ernest Torrence, Arthur Lightfoot and Guy Digman. Grafton pointed out that the earliest records of Local 12 that could be found go back to 1903, when Frank Gratton was president. He later served as secretary of the local.

The local paid tribute to eight retired members and each spoke briefly. They are Simon C. Hall, Gus Burgess, Arch Mullen, Brady Bowersock, William Haney, Clarence McKinnon, Ike Jones and Bosco Cooper.

The program opened with invocation by Hall. Grafton then spoke briefly, explaining the purpose of the amalgamation, and introduced Plant, Local 12's last president.

Loss Fixed At $1,500 In Blaze At Waterford

NEW WATERFORD — Damage was estimated today at $1,500 in a fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bundy Steele of Silliman St. Saturday night about 8:30.

Friemen said the fire stemmed from a faulty chimney and burned the rafters and roof. Most of the damage was caused by water, firemen added.

County Board Picks Woman As New Head

LISBON—Mrs. Elizabeth Strabley of Salineville was elected president of the Columbiana County Board of Education at a reorganization meeting Saturday night in the county school offices in the courthouse.

She succeeds Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, who had served two years. Olin Sanor of East Rochester was elected vice-president.

Atty. Elliott, Sanor and a new board member, Allan Chamberlin of Leetonia R.D. 2 were sworn in by Supt. James L. McBride, who also is clerk of the board.

In other business, the board passed its 1962 budget totaling $58,744.41, up $3,134.30 from the amount spent in 1961.

Part A—Supervisory teacher I—$8,700 ($8,600); supervisory teacher II — $7,383.34 ($7,598.22); special educational teacher — $8,550 ($8,462.50).

Part B — County superintendent, $9,900 ($9,900); secretary, $4,320 ($4,200); secretary assistant, $2,467.50 ($2,362.50); county attendance officer, $3,151 ($2,980); educational meetings, $50 (nothing); County Board of Education, $400 ($360.95); communication, $700 ($644.42); postage, $350 ($305); office equipment, $800 ($150); office supplies, $1,700 ($768.88).

Printing, $700 ($210.53); repairs for office equipment, $100 (nothing); board's share teacher's retirement, $3,700 ($3,573.72) board's share, school employe retirement, $920 ($826.68); service fund, $500 ($439.82); survey, $600 ($2,500); miscellaneous expenses, $802.50 ($295.42); attending educational meetings, $500 ($391.37) testing and guidance, $1,452.25 ($1,040.09) unanticipated, $997.82 (nothing).

Four Southern Local School Board members, Robert Skinner, Charles Allison, Jack Stewart and Miss Ruth McNicol, were present to discuss the problem of the Franklin Local School District. Because of an appeal which is xpected to be filed before the 7th District Court of Appeals, the school district has been left without funds. It is on the tax duplicate as being part of the new Southern Local School District.

The Southern Local board will meet today in an emergency session and if the former Franklin Local board's books are turned over to it by that time it will certify the payment of the teachers, bus drivers, and janitors, along with the other bills of the district, until the court rules on the controversy over transferring the former Franklin Local area to Carroll County jurisdiction.

The board also discussed the appeal of Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard's ruling on allowing the whole new Southern Local District to vote on the Franklin district transfer proposal in a special election set Feb. 13.

The appeal of the judge's ruling will be filed with the 7th District Court as soon as the preliminary testimony is transcribed so that it can be sent along with the appeal. It is hoped that it will be heard by the court on March 6, when it meets in Lisbon for its semi-annual visit.

Letters were ordered sent to Ben Weigart of Leetonia R.D. 2, for 12 years of service as a county board member; Howard Blanchard of Kensington, former president of the United Local school board, and Miss Lydia Kirk, a teacher in the Salineville schools for the past 39 years who retired.

Attendance Officer Fred Lohman gave his monthly report. It showed he made 45 calls, 27 to schools and 18 to homes, and traveled 694 miles during December.

Bills of $132.64 were ordered paid.

The county board voted to continue its meetings on the third Tuesday of each month. Because McBride will be attending the American Association of School Administrator's meeting in Atlantic City Feb. 20, it will postpone its next meeting until Feb. 27.

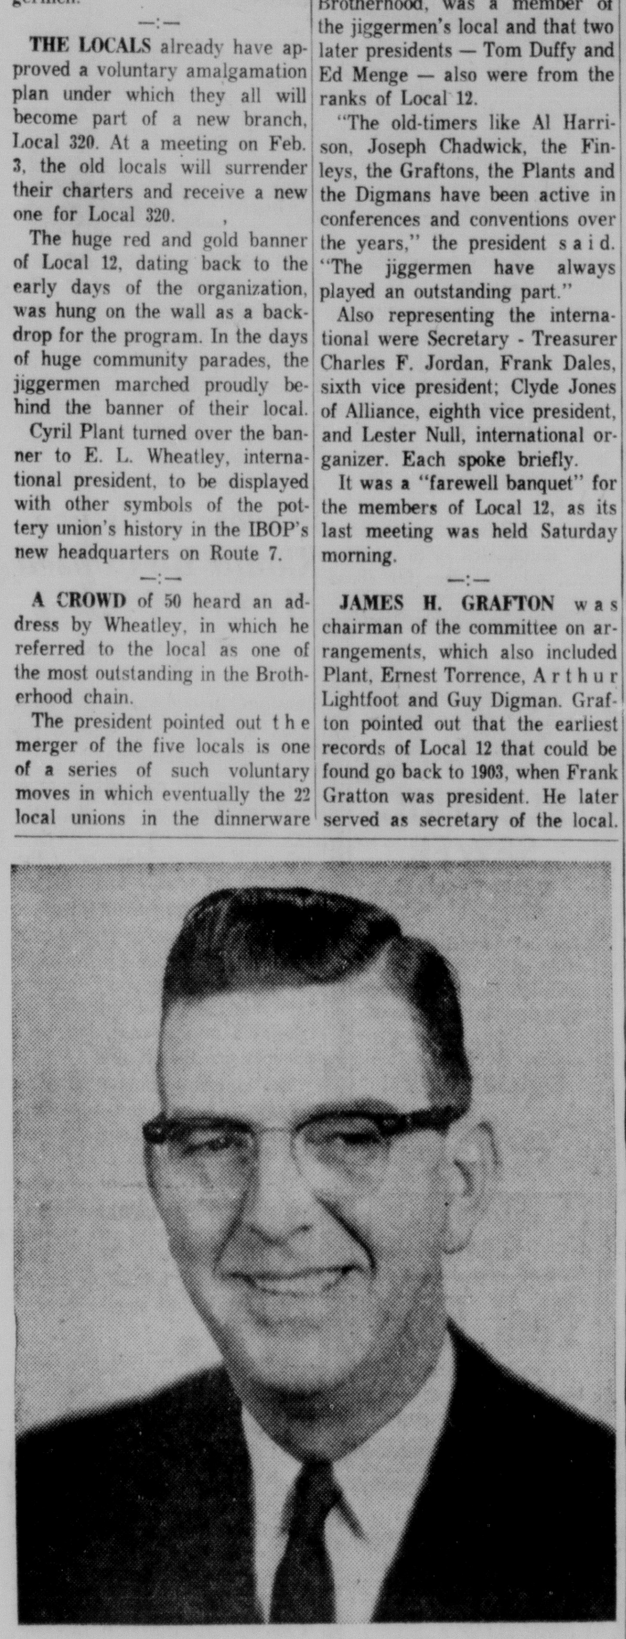

Grange Will Meet

LISBON — The third and fourth degrees will be exemplified at a meeting of Mt. Nebo Grange Wednesday at 8 p.m. A play, an essay, a poem and group singing are scheduled on the lecturer's theme, "Peace." Members will take sandwiches for lunch. Charles Morlan is master.

New Budget To Cost Each Countian $404

The Ohio Chamber of Commerce said President Kennedy's budget of $92.5 million would cost each Columbiana County resident $404.90 — if it is enacted into law.

The estimated cost countywide would be $43,326,000, or about six and a half times the amount of taxes collected in 1960, which was $6,624,141. A family of four would share $1,619.60 in the cost. The per capita figure is based on the 1960 population of 107,004.

Marks End Of Era

Farewell Dinner Held By Local 12

The close of an old era and the opening of a new frontier for five local unions in the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters was marked Saturday night at a banquet and program at the Travelers Hotel.

Members of Local Union 12, jiggermen, with a history that dates back to Nov. 25, 1896, held the farewell dinner to mark impending consolidation with four others —Local 4, casters; Local 10, handlers and turners; Local 22, mouldmakers, and Local 29, dish jiggermen.

THE LOCALS already have approved a voluntary amalgamation plan under which they all will become part of a new branch, Local 320. At a meeting on Feb. 3, the old locals will surrender their charters and receive a new one for Local 320.

The huge red and gold banner of Local 12, dating back to the early days of the organization, was hung on the wall as a backdrop for the program. In the days of huge community parades, the jiggermen marched proudly behind the banner of their local.

Cyril Plant turned over the banner to E. L. Wheatley, international president, to be displayed with other symbols of the pottery union's history in the IBOP's new headquarters on Route 7.

A CROWD of 50 heard an address by Wheatley, in which he referred to the local as one of the most outstanding in the Brotherhood chain.

The president pointed out the merger of the five locals is one of a series of such voluntary moves in which eventually the 22 local unions in the dinnerware plants in the East Liverpool area may be combined into three or four large unions.

He emphasized that the merger was a voluntary decision on the part of members of the five locals.

"The membership of this local has been outstanding in the affairs of the international," Wheatley said. "Many active members have come from this trade."

HE POINTED out that Al Hughes, first president of the Brotherhood, was a member of the jiggermen's local and that two later presidents — Tom Duffy and Ed Menge — also were from the ranks of Local 12.

"The old-timers like Al Harrison, Joseph Chadwick, the Finleys, the Graftons, the Plants and the Digmans have been active in conferences and conventions over the years," the president said. "The jiggermen have always played an outstanding part."

Also representing the international were Secretary - Treasurer Charles F. Jordan, Frank Dales, sixth vice president; Clyde Jones of Alliance, eighth vice president, and Lester Null, international organizer. Each spoke briefly.

It was a "farewell banquet" for the members of Local 12, as its last meeting was held Saturday morning.

JAMES H. GRAFTON was chairman of the committee on arrangements, which also included Plant, Ernest Torrence, Arthur Lightfoot and Guy Digman. Grafton pointed out that the earliest records of Local 12 that could be found go back to 1903, when Frank Gratton was president. He later served as secretary of the local.

The local paid tribute to eight retired members and each spoke briefly. They are Simon C. Hall, Gus Burgess, Arch Mullen, Brady Bowersock, William Haney, Clarence McKinnon, Ike Jones and Bosco Cooper.

The program opened with invocation by Hall. Grafton then spoke briefly, explaining the purpose of the amalgamation, and introduced Plant, Local 12's last president.

No Ticket Required For 'Baby' On Bus

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — "Do you charge for babies less than six months old?" The attractive young woman asked, glancing down at a blanket-wrapped bundle in her arms.

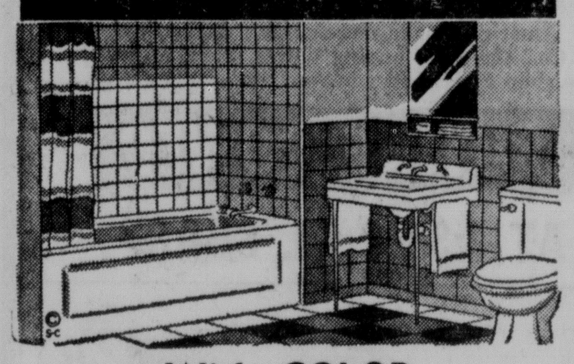

The ticket agent said no. The woman bought her ticket, hurried out and onto a bus. At her destination the driver helped her off, bestowing a friendly pat on the bundle.

And that is how one visitor to Memphis made the trip from here to Arkansas recently without being separated from her 3-month-old puppy.

Gas Firm Opens New Center In Beaver

Shown is the new $300,000 central office and service center of the Peoples Natural Gas Co., which opened today in Hopewell Township, four miles southwest of Aliquippa. It will serve 20,000 customers.

The one-story brick structure houses office, shop and warehouse facilities to serve Midland, Aliquippa and Burgettstown area homes, industries and businesses.

William R. Bechdel, manager, said the nine-acre site culminates Peoples' efforts in its Western Division area to consolidate three business - service offices in each community and a field station at Imperial.

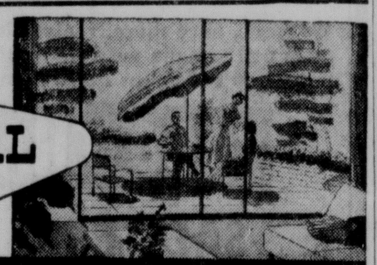

About 13,000 square feet of floor space houses a business office, customer service and gas appliance display center, home service auditorium and kitchen, and pipeline construction and maintenance operation. The auditorium seats 75.

Completely gas air-conditioned and heated, the offices have acoustical ceilings, tile floors and fluorescent lighting.

A chapel-style, white - pebble roof will reflect heat and maintain cooler interiors. During winter it acts as cushion to retain heat.

Hunting, Larsen & Dunnells, Inc., was the architect for the building and O. H. Martin Co. was general contractor. Peoples is looking forward to holding several employes' and public open houses.

Excess Moisture Could Be Caused By Crawl Space

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We have excessive moisture in our house and have been told that it is due to the crawl space underneath.

However, the crawl space is well ventilated and the dirt does not appear to be wet. Can you tell us if the crawl space is the cause of the trouble and whether the condition can be corrected?

Answer: Excessive moisture in a house can be due to a number of causes. We can't say for certain that the crawl space is responsible in this case, but the chances are that it is.

The moisture coming up from the ground evaporates and passes upward into the house through the walls and floors.

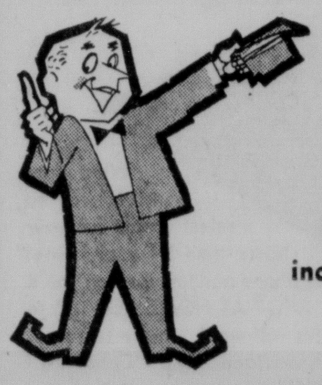

The rise of this moisture can be halted by using some kind of vapor barrier, such as roll roofing or a polyethylene film. It is spread on the ground within the crawl space, overlapped about six inches.

While it is true that excessive moisture in the ground usually is visible, there are times when it is not. This is especially true when the soil in the crawl space is clay.

If you have an old small rug or something similar that is closely woven; place it on the ground within the crawl space and weigh down the edges with stones. Take it up in a few days. If the bottom of the rug is damp, excessive moisture is present no matter what the appearance of the ground.

No Ticket Required For 'Baby' On Bus

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — "Do you charge for babies less than six months old?" The attractive young woman asked, glancing down at a blanket-wrapped bundle in her arms.

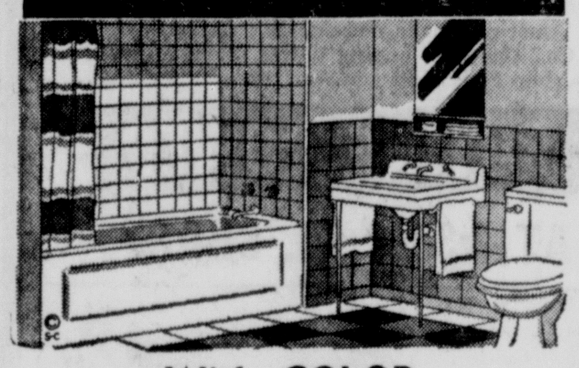

The ticket agent said no. The woman bought her ticket, hurried out and onto a bus. At her destination the driver helped her off, bestowing a friendly pat on the bundle.

And that is how one visitor to Memphis made the trip from here to Arkansas recently without being separated from her 3-month-old puppy.

Gas Firm Opens New Center In Beaver

Shown is the new $300,000 central office and service center of the Peoples Natural Gas Co., which opened today in Hopewell Township, four miles southwest of Aliquippa. It will serve 20,000 customers.

The one-story brick structure houses office, shop and warehouse facilities to serve Midland, Aliquippa and Burgettstown area homes, industries and businesses.

William R. Bechdel, manager, said the nine-acre site culminates Peoples' efforts in its Western Division area to consolidate three business - service offices in each community and a field station at Imperial.

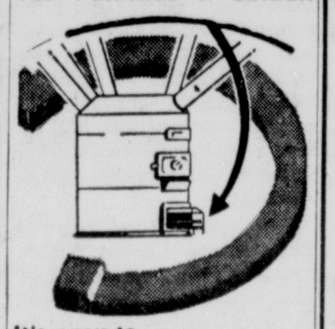

About 13,000 square feet of floor space houses a business office, customer service and gas appliance display center, home service auditorium and kitchen, and pipeline construction and maintenance operation. The auditorium seats 75.

Completely gas air-conditioned and heated, the offices have acoustical ceilings, tile floors and fluorescent lighting.

A chapel-style, white - pebble roof will reflect heat and maintain cooler interiors. During winter it acts as cushion to retain heat.

Hunting, Larsen & Dunnells, Inc., was the architect for the building and O. H. Martin Co. was general contractor. Peoples is looking forward to holding several employes' and public open houses.

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We have excessive moisture in our house and have been told that it is due to the crawl space underneath.

However, the crawl space is well ventilated and the dirt does not appear to be wet. Can you tell us if the crawl space is the cause of the trouble and whether the condition can be corrected?

Answer: Excessive moisture in a house can be due to a number of causes. We can't say for certain that the crawl space is responsible in this case, but the chances are that it is.

The moisture coming up from the ground evaporates and passes upward into the house through the walls and floors.

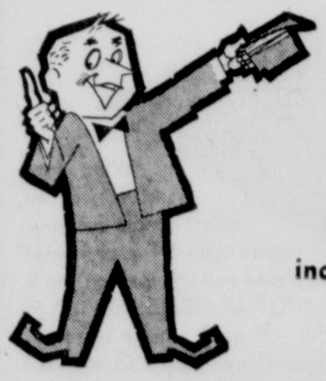

The rise of this moisture can be halted by using some kind of vapor barrier, such as roll roofing or a polyethylene film. It is spread on the ground within the crawl space, overlapped about six inches.

While it is true that excessive moisture in the ground usually is visible, there are times when it is not. This is especially true when the soil in the crawl space is clay.

If you have an old small rug or something similar that is closely woven; place it on the ground within the crawl space and weigh down the edges with stones. Take it up in a few days. If the bottom of the rug is damp, excessive moisture is present no matter what the appearance of the ground.

After Lapse Of 4 Years

Traditional Pottery Show To Resume At Pittsburgh

After a lapse of four years, the traditional Pittsburgh Pottery and Glass Show — major mid-winter market for East Liverpool dinnerware plants for close to a century — may resume early in 1963.

That fact was acknowledged today in a statement issued by the Board of Directors of the Atlantic City China & Glass Show, Inc., which was established in the east coast resort city in 1959 as a successor to the Pittsburgh show.

But the Atlantic City show will continue, the directors emphasized, explaining a three-year contract has been signed for use of the Convention Hall there. The 1963 show will be held Jan. 6-11.

The Pittsburgh show last was held in 1958, interrupting a pattern that had continued for more than 80 years. East Liverpool district plants and the other major pottery and glass producers of the U. S. then transferred to the Atlantic City show.

The Atlantic City show is directed by the William Little Managment of New York City. The Pittsburgh merchandising event is sponsored by the Associated Glass and Pottery Manufacturers. John Hammer of Knox, Pa., was the secretary and show manager of the association for many years.

The revelation that the Pittsburgh show is to resume came in a statement issued by the Board of Directors of the competing Atlantic City show. It said in part.

"In view of the intention of the Associated Glass and Pottery Manufacturers, who formerly conducted a show at the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in Pittsburgh, to return there, the management of the Atlantic City show made a careful survey of many other possible locations with the view of finding a compromise location that would be satisfactory to all elements of the industry.

"The conclusion was that the best interests of both buyers and exhibitors would be served by remaining in Atlantic City. In consequence, the board voted to continue here for the next three years."

The Pittsburgh show traditionally was held in early January. The Atlantic City show also has been conducted in the early days of the new year — generally opening in the first full week of January.

In connection with the board's announcement, the Atlantic City show group issued a release declaring that the 1962 show attracted 4,452 buyers representing retail operations in the U. S. Canada, Europe and the Far East.

It quoted William J. Carey of New York City, chairman of the board: "The show was excellent. It is gratifying to note that, in spite of bad weather the day before the opening and on the first day of the show, the opening saw a healthy influx of buyers..."

Bad weather throughout the nation delayed some buyers as much as 24 to 36 hours in arriving at the show, he said.

The sponsoring organization said the 1962 show was highlighted by "bright color, clean patterns and use of florals and modern geometrics in dinnerware decorations." It added that "dinnerware shapes for 1962 are simple and clean and much Earl American and peasant provincial design is available from both domestic and import sources."

Salineville Given Warning Against Refuse Dumping

SALINEVILLE — Mayor Stanley Fitch today issued a warning to village residents against dumping garbage and rubbish along back streets.

The mayor, along with Councilmen Gillis Earl, Clyde Polen, Homer Barcus and Donald Lewis, conducted a survey of the town Sunday afternoon to check on sanitary conditions and the drainage of various streets.

The mayor said the survey also was made in preparation for the annual spring cleanup.

Fitch said he was "appalled" by the conditions found on some of the streets. Residents had been dumping garbage and rubbish alongside the streets and in the ditches.

Fitch said he will prosecute anyone found dumping and the fine will range from $5 to $50. It was pointed out the community has a municipal dump for the use of residents and a private rubbish collector operates in the town.

Village Council will meet Monday night at 7:30.

The mayor also announced that he will be in his office each Friday from 7:30 to 9 p. m. for anyone who wants to confer with him on any matter.

Salem Man Fined

LISBON — Charles Alvin Blake, 20, of Salem was fined $25 and costs Saturday by Mayor Dean Stockman on a charge of reckless operation. He was cited Jan. 12 by village police after he backed his car across N. Market St. and it was struck by an oncoming car.

Motorist Awaits Chester Hearing

Theodore G. Work, 29, of Clinton posted $108.50 bond Sunday for a hearing Saturday at 8 a.m. before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Work was cited Tuesday night by Hancock County sheriff's deputies after his car went off the left side of Route 30 near Chester and crashed into two parked autos.

Work and a passenger, George Hughes, also of Clinton, were injured in the mishap and have been under treatment in City Hospital. Work was released Sunday.

Deputies said Hughes is charged with being drunk in public.

Meanwhile, a hearing scheduled Saturday before Squire Allison was continued until tonight for Mary Ellen Binkoski of Weirton. She was cited by Constable Harold Davis on a charge of failing to maintain control of her car as the result of a collision Friday on Route 30 near Chester.

The record of a ship's cruise is called the "log."

Arson School Slated For Firemen's Group

Fire Chief Robert Lewis of Wellsville said today March 11 has been confirmed as the date for an arson school to be held by the Columbiana County Firemen's Association.

It will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 4 p. m. at the Daw Junior High School in Wellsville. Those attending will be served lunch at noon.

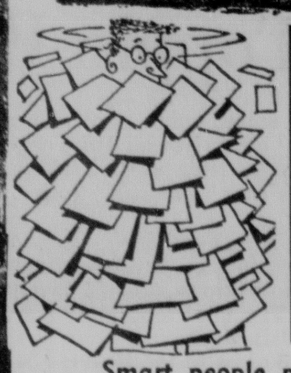

The school has been set up in conjunction with the State Department of Education. The State Arson Bureau will provide instructors.

Charles Getz of Loudonville is in charge. He is the northeastern Ohio co-ordinator of fire training service, working out of Kent State University.

Pedestrians Get Tip

Staley Meshes 40 At Newell

Vikings Topple Beaver Local, 61-53

Mick Staley, who has scored more points in his high school career than any other Newell High cager, let it be known Saturday night that he isn't taking a back seat to Stanton Local's Don "The Stilt" Spires in the district scoring race.

Spires last week hit 41 points and Staley came up with a red-hot 40-point performance Saturday on the Wells High floor to lead the Vikings in 61-53 revenge victory over Beaver Local. The total represents a new individual high for the Newell cager.

With Staley going on a point-making rampage, Coach John Robison's ambitious squad got back on the win trail to post its seventh victory in 11 starts.

Staley's latest scoring achievement placed him within five percentage points of Spires for the district point leadership. The 40 points pushed his total to 269 in 11 games for an average of 24.4. Spires has played one more game than the Newell star and is averaging 24.9 with 299 markers.

The total by Staley came on 14 field goals (his team had 20) and 12 of 15 foul shots. At the time, Newell's four year veteran hit on 10 consecutive foul shots.

Actually Newell's victory came at the foul line for Coach Tom McCall's Beavers had a 21-20 edge in field goals. The Vikings made 21 of 35 foul shots to Beaver Local's 11 of 19.

It was a come-from behind victory for the Green and White. Trailing 32-31 at halftime, Newell got hot and scored to a 50-42 margin when the third quarter ended and then hung on that lead throughout the final eight minutes.

A breakdown on Staley's scoring showed he produced his points in three quarters with 9 in the first, 17 in the second and 14 in the third.

Wichita Pulls Upset In Win Over Bradley

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State's mighty Buckeyes face a major obstacle tonight—possibly one of the toughest they'll encounter this season.

The Buckeyes, unbeaten in 13 games and No. 1 in the nation, take on Terry Dischinger and the Purdue Boilermakers in the first of a home and home series that could have a major bearing on the Big Ten conference standings and the national rankings. They play again next Monday.

Ohio State, of course, is favored. But if All-America Dischinger and his mates catch Jerry Lucas, John Havlicek and Co. on a cold night, it could be interesting. Dischinger will play with a cast on the little finger of his right hand, jammed in practice Saturday.

Purdue is 10-3 for the season, 3-1 in the league and was in the top five before falling to Southern California (No. 6).

The deep and talented Buckeyes have been pressed only once in running up their best-in-the-nation record. Their victims include two of the three teams that have beaten Purdue. The Boilermakers fell before Wichita 71-68, Southern California 80-63 and Minnesota 81-67. Ohio State took Southern Cal 76-66 and Saturday chalked up a solid 90-76 decision over Minnesota.

Also on tap tonight is Michigan (3-10) at Minnesota (6-8) in another Big Ten game. The schedule, light all week because of midsemester examinations, also includes Maryland at Maimi (Fla.), Washington State at Stanford and Murray at East Tennessee.

Wichita pulled the biggest upset of the weekend, turning back ninth-ranked Bradley 89-88 in spite of a 40-point performance by the Braves' Chet Walker.

The victory put Wichita in contention for the Missouri Valley title. Wichita is 5-2 in the league and 14-4 over-all. Bradley is 4-1 and 11-3.

All other top teams in action Saturday came through on schedule. Fifth-ranked Duquesne stopped St. Vincent's (Pa.) 85-53. Eighth-ranked Bowling Green ran its record to 14-1 with a 68-55 decision over Marshall and 10th-ranked Mississippi State (12-1) beat Mississippi 61-57.

Ford Second In Crosby Event

Campbell Holds 2-Strokes Lead As Snow Halts Golf

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —You can't golf in the snow, so the $50,000 Bing Crosby tournament still wasn't finished today.

Usually, the leader after four days here pockets a $5,300 check, but not Hoosier Joe Campbell. He led with a six-under-par 210 through 54 holes and then took an enforced rest as "casual hard water" at Pebble Beach Sunday brought a one-day postponement of the final 18 holes.

Campbell, of Pendleton, Ind., former national collegiate champion at Purdue, felt that an even par 72 today over the soggy Pebble Beach Course could win him the tournament. Yet he respected the foul weather skill of veteran Doug Ford of Vernon Hills, N.Y., who finished the third round in second place, just two strokes off the pace.

"Doug is a Houdini playing in bad weather and might well finish with a brilliant round," the 26-year-old Campbell commented. "But he's like the rest of us. He could shoot a 69 or a par 72 or, with unlucky breaks, even a 75."

Two strokes farther back at 214 were Phil Rodgers, the youngster from San Diego who won the Los Angeles Open this year, and Ken Venturi of San Francisco, who twice won the California amateur title here and took the Crosby in 1960.

Beaver Local Matmen Nip N. Canton, 21-17

Two falls recorded by Don Goforth and Dave Stacey proved the winning margin for Beaver Local which eked out a 21-17 wrestling victory over North Canton Saturday at the Beaver Local gym.

The victory gave Beaver Local a 6-2 record for this season.

Each team posted five victories while one other match wound up in a draw. The two pins came when Goforth put Myers away in 2:29 of the 112 pound match and Stacey threw Hickman in 2:55.

Carl Hoppel (145), Larry Yost (138) and Francis Possage (133) all remained unbeaten this season. The draw came in the 154-pound match between Beaver Local's Gary Bookman and Canton's Hickman.

Coach Jack O'Rourke takes his squad to Carrollton for a 7 p. m. match Tuesday.

112 — Goforth (BL) pinned Myers (NC) 2:29.

120 — Smith (NC) decisioned Cook (BL) 5-2.

Fight Results

Miami Beach, Fla. — Dick Tiger, 160¾, Nigeria, stopped Florentino Fernandez, 160, Cuba, 6.

Dortmund, Germany—Karl Mildenberger, 190, Germany, outpointed Pete Rademacher, 213, Columbus, Ga., 10.

O'Neill's Condition Listed As 'Poor' Today

Hospital aides refused to disclose the nature of his ailment and would only say he was brought there in an ambulance Sunday.

O'Neill, a broad - shouldered Irishman who will be 70 in July, joined the then Cleveland Naps in 1911 and earned a reputation for having a rifle arm and a sharp batting eye. When Cleveland won its pennant in 1920, he caught 149 games and hit .321.

He was traded to the Boston Red Sox in 1924, and later played with the New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns.

In the early 1930s, O'Neill joined the Indians as a coach, then managed them from 1935-37. He also managed the Detroit Tigers, Boston Red Sox, and Philadelphia Phillies.

Luis Arroyo, Yankee relief ace, finished 54 games for the American League champions in 1961.

Savage Joins 700 Club

Bill (Ham) Savage, a 20-year-veteran of the bowling ranks, joined the elite 700 club Saturday night when he led his Friendly Florists team to the first half championship in the National Bowling League.

Bill is shown pointing to his 709 total turned in on the Don-Bus Alleys as his team posted a 3,152-2,873 victory over Millers Sunoco in the first half roll-off.

"Ham", who will be 41 on March 31, gave himself an early birthday present by turning in his first 700 series. The scores of each game showed 267, 226 and 216.

The 700 by Savage was the second of the year, with lefty Chuck Stewart turning in a 715 earlier in the season which was the second for him.

Savage now becomes the third member in two years from East Liverpool to hit the 700 mark. Al Sayre was the other. All four games were rolled on the Don-Bus Alleys.

Other high series in the roll-off included John Canne's 639, John Barcus, 597, Gene Covert 582 and Art Haney 555.

Schaffer Leads United To 6th At St. Mary's

WARREN — Jerry Schaffer dropped in 16 points and grabbed 17 rebounds to lead United in a 45-31 decision over Warren St. Mary's in a Turnpike Conference game here Saturday night.

United, now with a 3-3 record in Conference competition, is now 6-5 overall.

Vikings Topple Beaver Local, 61-53

Mick Staley, who has scored more points in his high school career than any other Newell High cager, let it be known Saturday night that he isn't taking a back seat to Stanton Local's Don "The Stilt" Spires in the district scoring race.

Spires last week hit 41 points and Staley came up with a red-hot 40-point performance Saturday on the Wells High floor to lead the Vikings in 61-53 revenge victory over Beaver Local. The total represents a new individual high for the Newell cager.

The win avenged a 63-60 loss to the Beavers earlier this season.

Ford Second In Crosby Event

Campbell Holds 2-Strokes Lead As Snow Halts Golf

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —You can't golf in the snow, so the $50,000 Bing Crosby tournament still wasn't finished today.

Usually, the leader after four days here pockets a $5,300 check, but not Hoosier Joe Campbell. He led with a six-under-par 210 through 54 holes and then took an enforced rest as "casual hard water" at Pebble Beach Sunday brought a one-day postponement of the final 18 holes.

Hail and snow, unheard of previously in the 25-year history of the crooner's golf production, fell in abundance.

Gardner Dickinson watched it bury his golf ball on the first fairway before tournament officials decided players weren't like postmen, whose appointed rounds aren't stayed by rain, snow or sleet.

Campbell, of Pendleton, Ind., former national collegiate champion at Purdue, felt that an even par 72 today over the soggy Pebble Beach Course could win him the tournament. Yet he respected the foul weather skill of veteran Doug Ford of Vernon Hills, N.Y., who finished the third round in second place, just two strokes off the pace.

"Doug is a Houdini playing in bad weather and might well finish with a brilliant round," the 26-year-old Campbell commented. "But he's like the rest of us. He could shoot a 69 or a par 72 or, with unlucky breaks, even a 75."

Two strokes farther back at 214 were Phil Rodgers, the youngster from San Diego who won the Los Angeles Open this year, and Ken Venturi of San Francisco, who twice won the California amateur title here and took the Crosby in 1960.

Beaver Local Matmen Nip N. Canton, 21-17

Two falls recorded by Don Goforth and Dave Stacey proved the winning margin for Beaver Local which eked out a 21-17 wrestling victory over North Canton Saturday at the Beaver Local gym.

The victory gave Beaver Local a 6-2 record for this season.

Each team posted five victories while one other match wound up in a draw. The two pins came when Goforth put Myers away in 2:29 of the 112 pound match and Stacey threw Hickman in 2:55.

Carl Hoppel (145), Larry Yost (138) and Francis Possage (133) all remained unbeaten this season. The draw came in the 154-pound match between Beaver Local's Gary Bookman and Canton's Hickman.

Coach Jack O'Rourke takes his squad to Carrollton for a 7 p. m. match Tuesday.

112 — Goforth (BL) pinned Myers (NC) 2:29.

120 — Smith (NC) decisioned Cook (BL) 5-2.

[illegible] O'Neill's Condition Listed As 'Poor' Today

Hospital aides refused to disclose the nature of his ailment and would only say he was brought there in an ambulance Sunday.

O'Neill, a broad - shouldered Irishman who will be 70 in July, joined the then Cleveland Naps in 1911 and earned a reputation for having a rifle arm and a sharp batting eye. When Cleveland won its pennant in 1920, he caught 149 games and hit .321.

He was traded to the Boston Red Sox in 1924, and later played with the New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns.

In the early 1930s, O'Neill joined the Indians as a coach, then managed them from 1935-37. He also managed the Detroit Tigers, Boston Red Sox, and Philadelphia Phillies.

Luis Arroyo, Yankee relief ace, finished 54 games for the American League champions in 1961.

Aaron, Mathews Ink '62 Contracts At Milwaukee

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Milwaukee's 1-2 power punch for almost a decade, Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews, have signed their contracts, joining a determined band of Braves itching to get the 1962 baseball campaign underway.

Apparently stung by last year's fourth-place finish, the Braves have been rushing to the front office and inking contracts in rapid succession. The Aaron-Mathews signing Saturday concluded a productive week for the Braves' brass.

Earlier last week, Warren Spahn, baseball's highest paid pitcher, and Del Crandall, No. 1 catcher in the National League until he developed a sore arm last season, came to terms. The Braves now have 18 satisfied signees.

The signing of Aaron and Mathews cost the Braves more than $100,000 but President John McHale wouldn't be pinned down on whether one or both received raises. Their salaries are reportedly between $55,000 and $60,000.

McHale said he didn't know of "any two sluggers who have been as devastating over the years as these two."

Aaron and Mathews, who have formed the Braves' power trust since Aaron joined the club in 1954, did everything possible to lift the club last year. Aaron hit .327 with 34 homers and 120 runs batted in and Mathews batted .306 with 32 homers and 91 RBI.

The world champion New York Yankees came up with a top name as ace reliever Luis Arroyo received a "substantial raise" to about $17,000. The 33-year-old was rewarded for his yeoman work in the 1961 campaign when he appeared in 65 games and compiled a 15-5 record.

The Los Angeles Dodgers lured pitcher Don Drysdale and outfielder Tommy Davis into the fold, the Detroit Tigers inked pitchers Hank Aguirre and Phil Regan and outfielder Mickey Stanley and Cincinnati signed catcher Johnny Edwards.

16 Football Players Died

'Loss Of Control' Cited In Tragic '60 Air Crash

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board today attributed the 1960 football - charter plane crash in Ohio, to "loss of control during a premature lift-off."

Twenty-two persons were killed, including 16 players of the California State Polytechnic College football team who were returning home after playing Bowling Green State University. There were 26 survivors.

The plane crashed and burned shortly after take-off at Toledo on Oct. 29, 1960. It was a twin-engined C46, operated by Arctic-Pacific, Inc., an Oakland, Calif., supplemental airline.

In its report on the investigation of the crash the board said these also were contributing factors:

1. The C46 was loaded 2,000 pounds beyond its maximum certified weight. It also was over the allowable takeoff weight on departure from refueling stops at Albuquerque, N.M. and Youngstown, Ohio. The board said this was indicative of what it called the disregard the pilot, Capt. Donald L. J. Chesher, 38, had for regulations.

2. The plane attempted to take off in "zero visibility" conditions—in a fog so thick that Chesher had to make a walking tour of the area to find out where other airplanes were parked and refueling personnel had to direct him to the taxiway with flashlights.

3. The left engine suffered a partial loss of power on takeoff, because of "maloperation of engines not properly run up immediately prior to takeoff."

The power loss, a swerving takeoff due to erratic engine performance, and poor visibility combined to produce the premature lift-off, the board said.

It said the pilot was unable to remain airborne, either because of a stall condition or a power loss or both.

Chesher remained in command during the flight east, delivered the passengers at Toledo, flew on to Youngstown, slept briefly in the airport lounge, and then flew the Youngstown University football team to New Haven, Conn., arriving there before noon Oct. 28.

After a 29-hour layover, Chester and his copilot, Howard Perovich, 30, returned the charter group to Youngstown, ferried the plane to Toledo, and two hours later prepared to take off.

The CAB said the two men were on continuous duty from Oakland to New Haven for 26 hours and 40 minutes, and were actually at the controls for 11¼ hours of the 14 hours and 41 minutes of flight time to New Haven.

The board added that had the accident not occurred, "the entire projected return trip would also have been flown in direct violation" of the regulations.

The CAB noted that Arctic-Pacific was suspended two days after the accident and that its operating certificate has not been renewed.

The CAB said:

"The board concludes that Capt. Chesher and the management of Arctic - Pacific Airlines displayed utter disregard for the regulations set forth as to flight time limitations, minimum weather conditions, proper completion and filing of required paper work, good maintenance and inspection practices, and for compliance with regulations concerned with ensuring operation, including maximum gross takeoff weight, in a manner to guarantee safety to the public."

West Sparks Los Angeles In Overtime

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the St. Louis Hawks, defending Western Division champions, hope to qualify for the National Basketball Association playoffs, this is the time for them to move.

The Hawks had a winning weekend, defeating the New York Knicks 124-113 Sunday after posting an 116-112 victory over the Chicago Packers Saturday night. St. Louis, in fourth place, climbed to within 3½ games of the third-place Detroit Pistons.

In other games Sunday, Detroit turned back the Eastern Division pacsetting Boston Celtics 124-120, the Philadelphia Warriors whipped the Syracuse Nats 139-132 in overtime and the Los Angeles Lakers nipped Chicago 112-111 in another extra period game.

St. Louis produced a balanced scoring attack in extending its victory streak to three games. Bob Pettit was limited to 14 points but Cliff Hagan collected 26 points and Len Wilkens contributed 23.

Gene Shue's fine shooting display ignited the Pistons in the early going and Detroit withstood a late surge by Boston to hand the Celtics only their second setback in 17 home games. Shue tallied 30 points.

Wilt Chamberlain connected for 62 points in Philadelphia's overtime conquest of Syracuse, the 30th time this season that the league's scoring leader has hit 50 or more.

Jerry West found the range for 36 points, including a key three-point play in the overtime, to spark the Lakers. Rookie Walt Bellamy of Chicago produced his best scoring performance with 48 points.

Steers Tied With Saints In ABL Play

By The Associated Press

If the Kansas City Steers thought they were going to make a runaway of the Western Division race during the second half of the American Basketball League season, they had another guess coming.

The way the Steers dominated the division and then walked off with the first half playoff title, it seemed that they would duplicate the feat in the second half. But apparently they didn't reckon with the San Francisco Saints.

Kansas City has picked up where it left off, with five straight victories. But San Francisco has followed suit and the teams today are deadlocked with 5-0 records.

The Steers set a couple of records in romping over the Cleveland Pipers 132-120 Sunday while the Saints were beating the New York Tapers 108-105. In the other game, the Pittsburgh Rens snapped a two-game losing streak at the hands of Chicago and whipped the Majors 97-82.

Kansas City's 132 points established a one-game team scoring record and 46 points in the final period was the most points collected by a team in one quarter.

2 Clubs Favor Canadian, AFL All-Star Game

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A proposed international all-star game between players of the Canadian and American football leagues has won the approval of two club heads.

The game was suggested by K.S. (Bud) Adams, owner of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League.

In Montreal, M.E. (Ted) Workman, president of the Montreal Alouettes, said Sunday he was in favor of the proposed game and believed it could lead eventually to a playoff for an international championship.

Workman gave his approval of Adams' proposal that part of the revenue go into the players pension funds.

"In Canada we have been at a disadvantage because of the weather," he said. "We don't have time for extra post-season games that provide a source for a decent pension plan."

The Canadian league winds up its regular season in November.

The victory gives Coach Rich Berryman's crew an 8-3 record.

Dale Murphy and Ken Gallagher each fired in 13 points to spark the Clippers which showed a 14-6 first quarter lead and a 33-16 halftime margin.

The reserve game went to Columbiana, 48-41.

Beatty Takes Next Shot At Indoor Mile Feb. 10

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Sports Writer

"The first half was slower than we expected," said Beatty, explaining why he and Jazy ran only 4:04.8 Saturday in the Los Angeles invitational indoor meet.

Thanks to a longer lunge at the tape, Beatty beat the French linotype operator by two inches, though each had the same time in the highlight event of a star-studded meet.

The splits—61.5, 2:05.0, 3:07.4—testify to the brilliant duel the pair waged in the final quarter mile after a slow start. Occidental's Leroy Neal, the former junior college 880 record-holder, was counted on to lead the field through a 2-flat half mile, but he couldn't force the pace.

So Beaty took the lead through the middle of the race until Keith Forman of Oregon surprisingly pulled ahead with three laps to go on the 160-yard board track. Then Jazy came on to lead by a yard with a lap to go. Beatty kicked strong, lost two yards when Jazy held him off on the final turn, but gained inch-by-inch until his final lunge.

In the Los Angeles Times meet Feb. 10 Beatty will face two other champs from Saturday's meet: Jim Grelle, the ex-Oregon ace who barely won the 1,000 in 2:10.7, and Laszlo Tabori, the former Hungarian Olympian, a one-tenth winner at two miles in 9:00.4.

Despite the failure to flirt with four minutes, it was still the best indoor mile for Beatty, named the meet's outstanding athlete.

Tennessee A&I provided the surprise and the disappointments of the meet—Jean Holmes' 7-1 sprint victory over Olympic triple medal winner Wilma Rudolph Ward, and Ralph Boston's failure to better 24 feet 11 inches in the broad jump.

Tops in the field events was the pole vault, won by John Rose of Arizona State at 15 feet, 5¾ inches—cleared on his third vault.

2 Heavyweights Eye Comeback This Week

By The Associated Press

Heavyweights Tom McNeeley Jr. of Arlington, Mass., and British champion Henry Cooper, who were flattened in key fights last month, start their comebacks this week.

McNeeley, who tasted his first defeat when he was bounced out by heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in the fourth round at Toronto, Dec. 4, begins anew tonight at Providence, R.I. He takes on a former sparring partner, Don Prout of Providence, in a 10 rounder.

Cooper, the British and British Empire titleholder, lost a June crack at Patterson when he was knocked out in the second round by Zora Folley on Dec. 5 in London. His comeback opponent is Tony Hughes of Cleveland at London.

Driver Forfeits Bond After W. 8th Collision

Franklin D. Hanlon, 404 Elm St., forfeited a $32.50 bond on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident Jan. 15 on W. 8th St. The affidavit was filed by Betty Wells, 229 W. 8th St.

Charles Chapman of Youngstown, cited Sunday by the State Highway Patrol for passing traffic on routes 7 and 30 in California Hollow, failed to appear.

Samuelstuen Leaps To Ski Jumping Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Ansten Samuelstuen of Boulder, Colo., captured his third title and became one of few repeat winners when he outclassed the field in the national ski jumping championships Sunday.

The 32-year-old electronics technician, who was born in Norway, negotiated the Norge Ski Club 60 meter hill with leaps of 194 and 190 feet. He collected 226.5 points based on form and distance.

5 Escape $125,000 Fire In Donora, Pa.

DONORA, Pa. (AP) — Fire of unknown cause wrecked the interior of a drug store and apartment late Sunday night and early today in Donora, causing an estimated $125,000 damage. Five persons in the apartment escaped injury.

Fire Chief John Volk, who estimated damage, said the blaze erupted in the basement of the two-story brick structure shortly before midnight Sunday. It spread quickly to the drug store and to the second - floor apartment of Martin Duvall, owner of the drug store.

6 Eye Ohio's Title In 37th Peace Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Six teen-agers survived the semifinal round of the 37th Ohio Prince of Peace contest here Sunday and will return next Sunday to try for the state title and the $100 and four-year college scholarship that goes with it.

The six are the finalists from among 2,500 Ohio high school students who started the speech competition sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches.

They are:

Cumberland Motorist Cited In 2-Way Crash

A New Cumberland area motorist was cited following a two-car crash at the intersection of Routes 152 and 646 near Richmond, in Jefferson County, Sunday at 10:40 a. m.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said Bobby R. Wildman, 39, of New Cumberland R. D. 1 pulled from Route 646 and collided nearly head - on with another car driven north on Route 152 by Paul D. Nitz, 23, of Richmond R. D. 1.

No one was injured. Officers said extensive damage resulted to both cars. Wildman was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Newspaper Praised For Its Spelling Job

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Mary Samuel had to admit the St. Petersburg Independent did a pretty good job of spelling the name of the Welsh town. But she said one "I" had been left out of "Llanfairpwllgwyngllgogery chwyrndrobwll - llantysiliogogogoch." Wales-born Miss Samuel, furthermore, could pronounce the name, having learned as a girl to earn a shilling from her uncle.

The town with the jaw-breaking name, she said, is very pretty.

"It has a church, railway station, service station, a few houses and three or four tearooms," she said.

British Columbia Fire Fatal To 5 Children

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Five children burned to death in a fire which swept through an auto court bungalow at Lillooet, 120 miles northeast of here, Saturday night.

Their deaths brought to 10 the number of children killed in fires in British Columbia during the weekend. Five others died Friday night when flames destroyed a shack on an Indian reserve at Alert Bay.

Aaron, Mathews Ink '62 Contracts At Milwaukee

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Milwaukee's 1-2 power punch for almost a decade, Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews, have signed their contracts, joining a determined band of Braves itching to get the 1962 baseball campaign underway.

Apparently stung by last year's fourth-place finish, the Braves have been rushing to the front office and inking contracts in rapid succession. The Aaron-Mathews signing Saturday concluded a productive week for the Braves' brass.

Earlier last week, Warren Spahn, baseball's highest paid pitcher, and Del Crandall, No. 1 catcher in the National League until he developed a sore arm last season, came to terms. The Braves now have 18 satisfied signees.

The signing of Aaron and Mathews cost the Braves more than $100,000 but President John McHale wouldn't be pinned down on whether one or both received raises. Their salaries are reportedly between $55,000 and $60,000.

McHale said he didn't know of "any two sluggers who have been as devastating over the years as these two."

Aaron and Mathews, who have formed the Braves' power trust since Aaron joined the club in 1954, did everything possible to lift the club last year. Aaron hit .327 with 34 homers and 120 runs batted in and Mathews batted .306 with 32 homers and 91 RBI.

The world champion New York Yankees came up with a top name as ace reliever Luis Arroyo received a "substantial raise" to about $17,000. The 33-year-old was rewarded for his yeoman work in the 1961 campaign when he appeared in 65 games and compiled a 15-5 record.

The Los Angeles Dodgers lured pitcher Don Drysdale and outfielder Tommy Davis into the fold, the Detroit Tigers inked pitchers Hank Aguirre and Phil Regan and outfielder Mickey Stanley and Cincinnati signed catcher Johnny Edwards.

16 Football Players Died

'Loss Of Control' Cited In Tragic '60 Air Crash

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board today attributed the 1960 football - charter plane crash in Ohio, to "loss of control during a premature liftoff."

Twenty-two persons were killed, including 16 players of the California State Polytechnic College football team who were returning home after playing Bowling Green State University. There were 26 survivors.

The plane crashed and burned shortly after take-off at Toledo on Oct. 29, 1960. It was a twin-engined C46, operated by Arctic-Pacific, Inc., an Oakland, Calif., supplemental airline.

In its report on the investigation of the crash the board said these also were contributing factors:

1. The C46 was loaded 2,000 pounds beyond its maximum certified weight. It also was over the allowable takeoff weight on departure from refueling stops at Albuquerque, N.M. and Youngstown, Ohio. The board said this was indicative of what it called the disregard the pilot, Capt. Donald L. J. Chesher, 38, had for regulations.

2. The plane attempted to take off in "zero visibility" conditions —in a fog so thick that Chesher had to make a walking tour of the area to find out where other airplanes were parked and refueling personnel had to direct him to the taxiway with flashlights.

3. The left engine suffered a partial loss of power on takeoff, because of "maloperation of engines not properly run up immediately prior to takeoff."

The power loss, a swerving takeoff due to erratic engine performance, and poor visibility combined to produce the premature liftoff, the board said.

It said the pilot was unable to remain airborne, either because of a stall condition or a power loss or both.

Chesher remained in command during the flight east, delivered the passengers at Toledo, flew on to Youngstown, slept briefly in the airport lounge, and then flew the Youngstown University football team to New Haven, Conn., arriving there before noon Oct. 28.

After a 29-hour layover, Chester and his copilot, Howard Perovich, 30, returned the charter group to Youngstown, ferried the plane to Toledo, and two hours later prepared to take off.

The CAB said the two men were on continuous duty from Oakland to New Haven for 26 hours and 40 minutes, and were actually at the controls for 11¼ hours of the 14 hours and 41 minutes of flight time to New Haven.

The board added that had the accident not occurred, "the entire projected return trip would also have been flown in direct violation" of the regulations.

The CAB noted that Arctic-Pacific was suspended two days after the accident and that its operating certificate has not been renewed.

The CAB said:

"The board concludes that Capt. Chesher and the management of Arctic - Pacific Airlines displayed utter disregard for the regulations set forth as to flight time limitations, minimum weather conditions, proper completion and filing of required paper work, good maintenance and inspection practices, and for compliance with regulations concerned with ensuring operation, including maximum gross takeoff weight, in a manner to guarantee safety to the public."

Beatty Takes Next Shot At Indoor Mile Feb. 10

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Sports Writer

"The first half was slower than we expected," said Beatty, explaining why he and Jazy ran only 4:04.8 Saturday in the Los Angeles invitational indoor meet.

Thanks to a longer lunge at the tape, Beatty beat the French linotype operator by two inches, though each had the same time in the highlight event of a star-studded meet.

The splits—61.5, 2:05.0, 3:07.4—testify to the brilliant duel the pair waged in the final quarter mile after a slow start. Occidental's Leroy Neal, the former junior college 880 record-holder, was counted on to lead the field through a 2-flat half mile, but he couldn't force the pace.

So Beaty took the lead through the middle of the race until Keith Forman of Oregon surprisingly pulled ahead with three laps to go on the 160-yard board track. Then Jazy came on to lead by a yard with a lap to go. Beatty kicked strong, lost two yards when Jazy held him off on the final turn, but gained inch-by-inch until his final lunge.

In the Los Angeles Times meet Feb. 10 Beatty will face two other champs from Saturday's meet: Jim Grelle, the ex-Oregon ace who barely won the 1,000 in 2:10.7, and Laszlo Tabori, the former Hungarian Olympian, a one-tenth winner at two miles in 9:00.4.

Despite the failure to flirt with four minutes, it was still the best indoor mile for Beatty, named the meet's outstanding athlete.

Tennessee A&I provided the surprise and the disappointments of the meet—Jean Holmes' 7-1 sprint victory over Olympic triple medal winner Wilma Rudolph Ward, and Ralph Boston's failure to better 24 feet 11 inches in the broad jump.

Tops in the field events was the pole vault, won by John Rose of Arizona State at 15 feet, 5¾ inches —cleared on his third vault.

2 Heavyweights Eye Comeback This Week

By The Associated Press

Heavyweights Tom McNeeley Jr. of Arlington, Mass., and British champion Henry Cooper, who were flattened in key fights last month, start their comebacks this week.

McNeeley, who tasted his first defeat when he was bounced out by heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in the fourth round at Toronto, Dec. 4, begins anew tonight at Providence, R.I. He takes on a former sparring partner, Don Prout of Providence, in a 10 rounder.

Cooper, the British and British Empire titleholder, lost a June crack at Patterson when he was knocked out in the second round by Zora Folley on Dec. 5 in London. His comeback opponent is Tony Hughes of Cleveland at London.

Driver Forfeits Bond After W. 8th Collision

A city motorist forfeited a bond and a Youngstown driver failed to appear for a traffic hearing this morning in Municipal Court.

Franklin D. Hanlon, 404 Elm St., forfeited a $32.50 bond on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident Jan. 15 on W. 8th St. The affidavit was filed by Betty Wells, 229 W. 8th St.

Charles Chapman of Youngstown, cited Sunday by the State Highway Patrol for passing traffic on routes 7 and 30 in California Hollow, failed to appear.

Samuelstuen Leaps To Ski Jumping Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Ansten Samuelstuen of Boulder, Colo., captured his third title and became one of few repeat winners when he outclassed the field in the national ski jumping championships Sunday.

The 32-year-old electronics technician, who was born in Norway, negotiated the Norge Ski Club 60 meter hill with leaps of 194 and 190 feet. He collected 226.5 points based on form and distance.

5 Escape $125,000 Fire In Donora, Pa.

DONORA, Pa. (AP) — Fire of unknown cause wrecked the interior of a drug store and apartment late Sunday night and early today in Donora, causing an estimated $125,000 damage. Five persons in the apartment escaped injury.

Fire Chief John Volk, who estimated damage, said the blaze erupted in the basement of the two-story brick structure shortly before midnight Sunday. It spread quickly to the drug store and to the second - floor apartment of Martin Duvall, owner of the drug store.

6 Eye Ohio's Title In 37th Peace Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Six teen-agers survived the semifinal round of the 37th Ohio Prince of Peace contest here Sunday and will return next Sunday to try for the state title and the $100 and four-year college scholarship that goes with it.

The six are the finalists from among 2,500 Ohio high school students who started the speech competition sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches.

They are:

Cumberland Motorist Cited In 2-Way Crash

A New Cumberland area motorist was cited following a two-car crash at the intersection of Routes 152 and 646 near Richmond, in Jefferson County, Sunday at 10:40 a. m.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said Bobby R. Wildman, 39, of New Cumberland R. D. 1 pulled from Route 646 and collided nearly head - on with another car driven north on Route 152 by Paul D. Nitz, 23, of Richmond R. D. 1.

No one was injured. Officers said extensive damage resulted to both cars. Wildman was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Newspaper Praised For Its Spelling Job

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Mary Samuel had to admit the St. Petersburg Independent did a pretty good job of spelling the name of the Welsh town. But she said one "I" had been left out of "Llanfairpwllgwyngllgogery chwyrndrobwll - llantysiliogogogoch." Wales-born Miss Samuel, furthermore, could pronounce the name, having learned as a girl to earn a shilling from her uncle.

The town with the jaw-breaking name, she said, is very pretty. "It has a church, railway station, service station, a few houses and three or four tearooms," she said.

West Sparks Los Angeles In Overtime

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the St. Louis Hawks, defending Western Division champions, hope to qualify for the National Basketball Association playoffs, this is the time for them to move.

The Hawks had a winning weekend, defeating the New York Knicks 124-113 Sunday after posting an 116-112 victory over the Chicago Packers Saturday night. St. Louis, in fourth place, climbed to within 3½ games of the third-place Detroit Pistons.

In other games Sunday, Detroit turned back the Eastern Division pacsetting Boston Celtics 124-120, the Philadelphia Warriors whipped the Syracuse Nats 139-132 in overtime and the Los Angeles Lakers nipped Chicago 112-111 in another extra period game.

St. Louis produced a balanced scoring attack in extending its victory streak to three games. Bob Pettit was limited to 14 points but Cliff Hagan collected 26 points and Len Wilkens contributed 23.

Gene Shue's fine shooting display ignited the Pistons in the early going and Detroit withstood a late surge by Boston to hand the Celtics only their second setback in 17 home games. Shue tallied 30 points.

Wilt Chamberlain connected for 62 points in Philadelphia's overtime conquest of Syracuse, the 30th time this season that the league's scoring leader has hit 50 or more.

Jerry West found the range for 36 points, including a key three-point play in the overtime, to spark the Lakers. Rookie Walt Bellamy of Chicago produced his best scoring performance with 48 points.

Steers Tied With Saints In ABL Play

By The Associated Press

If the Kansas City Steers thought they were going to make a runaway of the Western Division race during the second half of the American Basketball League season, they had another guess coming.

The way the Steers dominated the division and then walked off with the first half playoff title, it seemed that they would duplicate the feat in the second half. But apparently they didn't reckon with the San Francisco Saints.

Kansas City has picked up where it left off, with five straight victories. But San Francisco has followed suit and the teams today are deadlocked with 5-0 records.

The Steers set a couple of records in romping over the Cleveland Pipers 132-120 Sunday while the Saints were beating the New York Tapers 108-105. In the other game, the Pittsburgh Rens snapped a two-game losing streak at the hands of Chicago and whipped the Majors 97-82.

Kansas City's 132 points established a one-game team scoring record and 46 points in the final period was the most points collected by a team in one quarter.

2 Clubs Favor Canadian, AFL All-Star Game

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A proposed international all-star game between players of the Canadian and American football leagues has won the approval of two club heads.

The game was suggested by K.S. (Bud) Adams, owner of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League.

In Montreal, M.E. (Ted) Workman, president of the Montreal Alouettes, said Sunday he was in favor of the proposed game and believed it could lead eventually to a playoff for an international championship.

Workman gave his approval of Adams' proposal that part of the revenue go into the players pension funds.

"In Canada we have been at a disadvantage because of the weather," he said. "We don't have time for extra post-season games that provide a source for a decent pension plan."

The Canadian league winds up its regular season in November.

Columbiana On Top, 58-41

The victory gives Coach Rich Berryman's crew an 8-3 record.

Dale Murphy and Ken Gallagher each fired in 13 points to spark the Clippers which showed a 14-6 first quarter lead and a 33-16 halftime margin.

The reserve game went to Columbiana, 48-41.

Judge Rich To Seek GOP Bid In Congress

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Carl W. Rich of the Hamilton County Domestic Relations Court announced today he will be a candidate in the May primary for the Republican nomination for 1st District representative in Congress.

The 1st District covers Cincinnati and the eastern half of Hamilton County.

Judge Rich, a four-term mayor of Cincinnati, will seek the seat now held by Rep. Gordon Scherer, also a Republican. Scherer announced some time ago he would not seek re-election.

Announcement of his candidacy means Judge Rich will be required to resign his domestic relations court post.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average two to six degrees below normal. Normal high 34-36, normal low 18-22. Colder Tuesday and Wednesday, warmer Thursday, colder last of week. Precipitation will average one-fourth to locally three-fourths of an inch melted in intermittent periods of snow or snow flurries.

Although yew is the traditional wood used for making the archery bows, it is now somewhat scarce and, as a result, the U. S. manufacturers have been using lemon wood in general. Some also use orange and hickory.

Judge Rich To Seek GOP Bid In Congress

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Carl W. Rich of the Hamilton County Domestic Relations Court announced today he will be a candidate in the May primary for the Republican nomination for 1st District representative in Congress.

The 1st District covers Cincinnati and the eastern half of Hamilton County.

Judge Rich, a four-term mayor of Cincinnati, will seek the seat now held by Rep. Gordon Scherer, also a Republican. Scherer announced some time ago he would not seek re-election.

Announcement of his candidacy means Judge Rich will be required to resign his domestic relations court post.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average two to six degrees below normal. Normal high 34-36, normal low 18-22. Colder Tuesday and Wednesday, warmer Thursday, colder last of week. Precipitation will average one-fourth to locally three-fourths of an inch melted in intermittent periods of snow or snow flurries.

Although yew is the traditional wood used for making the archery bows, it is now somewhat scarce and, as a result, the U. S. manufacturers have been using lemon wood in general. Some also use orange and hickory.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Is there any way I can renovate some dented ping-pong balls?

A. You can often restore these dented balls to their original roundness by pouring some boiling water over them. The heat of the water expands the air inside the balls, and the dents pop out.

Q. How can I prevent some screws, using in outside work, from rusting?

A. Dip them into a thick paste made by stirring powdered graphite in linseed oil. Mix only enough for immediate use, since it thickens like paint when left exposed to the air.

Q. What is a quick and easy way to fill in small nail holes and cracks in white plastered walls?

A. Just by patting in some ordinary baking soda. It's a good idea to fill up these holes and cracks in this manner before painting the walls.

Q. How can I blacken some brown shoes?

A. First rub the shoes with a small piece of sandpaper to remove all the dirt, then rub some liquid ammonia into them with a flannel cloth. Next apply some black ink with a brush, let dry, and then polish as usual.

Junior Editors Quiz on SANCTUARY

QUESTION: Is Sanctuary still practiced?

ANSWER: Sanctuary describes the most sacred part of any religious building. Long ago, a man could go to such a place and remain safe from capture, if he were a slave or a criminal or a defeated soldier. The places of sanctuary were called asylums, a word that comes from the Greek word, asylon, which means "a place safe from violence." Greeks and Romans got such protection in their temples of the gods. And the ancient Hebrews had whole cities for the same purpose. In the reign of Constantine the Great, Christian churches were made asylums. The protection given by all these places was called the right of sanctuary. Today, there are no places where a criminal could be assured of freedom from capture since the right of sanctuary is not recognized. However, asylum may be given. This happened in Cuba when some Americans were threatened with arrest. They entered the Swiss Embassy and could not be seized by Castro forces.

FOR YOU TO DO: Try to find out how an Embassy in any country can give asylum to people. Here's a clue: the ground of an Embassy is considered the territory of its nation.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from the woman in Seattle who expects to be bombarded by visitors next spring when the Century 21 Exposition opens.

She should live in Reno. It's like Century 21 all year 'round. Two years ago we had 12 sets of house guests. I was pregnant nine months out of that year and felt rotten.

We hadn't lived in Reno long ourselves but the minute we got a permanent address our friends and relatives let us know how thrilled they were that we had moved to this exciting city. They always wanted to visit Reno and now they had people to stay with. Charming!

We hoped the novelty would wear off but no such luck. We've lived here six years and it's getting worse, not better. So, chin up, Seattle, Century 21 will be over in a year. Residents of Reno are trapped forever. — RENOVATED.

Read On

Dear Ann: The Seattle woman thinks she has trouble? She should try living in New York. I used to laugh at that amusing line, "It's a great city to visit but I wouldn't care to live there."

It's a lot less funny since I've discovered that a great many people who don't care to live here are delighted to know someone who does. Me.

Last month our grocery bill (family of four) was $152. We had two guests for one week, one guest for two weeks and three guests for 10 days. When I hear that considerate plea, "Let's eat home because it's easier and less expensive than eating out," I want to cut my throat. Easier for WHOM? And cheaper for THEM, maybe.

My husband and I are seriously considering moving to Phoenix.—MANHATTAN MOANER.

Dear Moaner: Don't do it! Read the next letter!!!

Rough All Over

Dear Ann: I'll trade houses with the Seattle sufferer if she'll take mine. We live in Phoenix.

Phoenix is supposed to be a haven for asthmatics, arthritics and others who seek a warm, dry climate. So how do you tell friends and family that you aren't running a free hotel when they write, "We have limited funds but the docto· said —. We'll sleep on the floor if necessary."

My husband is considering moving away from Phoenix for MY health. — AILING ALSO.

Dear Ann: We live in Minneapolis "The Land o'Lakes—the Gateway to the Great Fishing Country." What a convenient stopoff for Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin freeloaders!

It got so bad last summer that whenever we saw a car pull up in the driveway with an outboard motor or fishing gear we closed the curtains and played dead.

It's a shame that people are forced to hide in their own home but when you live in Minneapolis there's no way out. — SITTING DUCKS.

Dear Ann: Tell Seattle she has a cinch. She should try Las Vegas. At least if she goes to the Exposition she'll see something. All we do in Vegas is accompany visiting firemen to gambling casinos. It's boring me to death.

Can you imagine anything more Dullsville than standing at the elbow of friends while they pull slot machine handles? Well, Dear Ann, THIS is my life. — IN A JACKPOT.

Dear Ann: The letter from Seattle gave me courage to speak my mind. We live in Louisville.

Every year at Derby time guests descend on us from all over. They even expect us to provide tickets to the Derby which are as scarce as left-handed harmonicas.

We hate to miss the Derby but next year we're taking it on the lam. We are going to Seattle to see Century 21. And Mrs. Landers, WE will stay in a hotel.—ANTIFREELOADER.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Farm Agent's Report

Texas 'Freeze' To Boost Cost Of Fruit, Vegetables

Area housewives will feel the effect of the freezing weather which hit Texas last week in higher prices for leafy vegetables and citrus fruit, Richard Skinner, market information agent with the Agricultural Extension Service at Canfield, pointed out today.

Leafy vegetables grown in Texas were a total loss. Cabbage in the fields was iced as was broccoli. Lettuce and greens were a complete loss. There is a real possibility tomatoes were a total loss. However, it is not too late to replant for a spring crop.

The spring onion crop, unless it is bulbed, is fairly safe. Carrot tops are lost, but carrots still may be harvested if time is allowed for new growth of tops.

The Texas freeze and the recent cold wave in Florida have been a severe blow to the vegetable industry. Most of our winter vegetables come from these two states.

Most of the Florida loss was to tender, leafy vegetables, such as endive, escarole and celery — although cucumbers, peppers, beans, squash, tomatoes, egg plant, radishes, sweet corn and cabbage were also affected.

It appears certain that the quality of some market vegetables will be lower. Prices have gone up and will probably go higher on winter vegetables from Florida and Texas. You will want to use extreme caution when selecting fresh vegetables for the next few weeks to insure a usable product.

Citrus prices will go up as damage from the freeze was heavy to oranges and grapefruit. Prices have already increased some as a result of the seven-day shipping moratorium placed on citrus fruit to protect against shipping damaged fruit.

We may be feeling the effect of the freeze for several years to come if the tree loss is heavy. This cannot be determined for some time yet although it is not expected to be severe.

Much of the frozen fruit is being used for juice. Therefore, fresh market prices will probably increase more than juice on frozen concentrate prices.

You will find more apples on the market during the next few weeks. Because of improved storage practices during recent years, apples now on the market are of excellent quality and prices are comparable with those during the peak of harvest. This makes apples a good buy.
